Tornado Destroys A Home

Strikes Northeast Of Versailles, Hurts A Woman, Damages Estimated at $6,000

A small tornado destroyed a home northeast of Versailles Friday night and injured a woman inside the home.

Mrs. Mary Young Brown, 54, suffered cuts on her arm from flying glass.

Two other women with her at the time the tornado struck were uninjured. They were removed to another home for temporary residence.

The house hit belonged to Salmon Moore, about three miles east of Versailles, just off Highway 5. Damage was estimated by the Highway Patrol at $5,000 to $6,000.

A cow was found dead on the Moore farm Saturday morning.

The two women with Mrs. Brown when the tornado hit, Mrs. Belle Morre, 90, and a Mrs. Carr of Chilhowee, were taken by ambulance to the home of Mrs. Carr's daughter, Mrs. Lucille Bowles, Versailles.

Later inventory of the damage done by the storm revealed three barns blown down. One was located on the Marlow farm, nine miles north of Versailles. On an adjoining farm, owned by Leroy Gingerrich, a barn was destroyed. In another barn, numerous livestock received injuries. One of them, a young calf, had to be destroyed.

Many large trees in the area were uprooted and small buildings removed from their normal positions.

At Linn, Mo., in Jefferson county, a brief but violent windstorm tore the roof off a department store and dropped it across U. S. Highway 50, blocking traffic temporarily.

Two persons suffered slight injuries in a brief squall at Jefferson City shortly before 4 o'clock. They were James L. Robertson, of Jefferson City, and his 80-year-old mother who were hurt when a big tree toppled from the Olc National Cemetery and bashed in the front of a car in which they were riding.

Traffic on East McCarthy St., U. S. Highway 50 where the accident happened had to be rerouted through downtown Jefferson City during the evening rush.

At Linn four cars, the postoffice and bank building also were damaged.

Repair teams from the Sedalia office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. were called to repair damage to long distance lines in the area hit by the storm.

Visitors at the "open house" at the office building Friday night were unaware that a real-life emergency was being handled behind the scenes.

While the bulk of the employees were taking visitors through the building, R. E. Furman, district plant superintendent, W. T. Book, district wire chief, and W. J. Mateja, supervising construction foreman, were busily engaged in arranging for the movement of men and supplies to restore communications to communities isolated or partially isolated by high winds that cut a swath across the state.

The storm caused considerable damage to long distance lines serving Versailles, Jefferson City, Linn, Elsberry, Clarksville and Paynesville. Most of the damage was caused by debris being blown through the lines at Versailles. At Linn a barn was blown through one of the main long distance lines from Jefferson City to St. Louis.

First reports of the damage started coming in shortly after 4 p. m. Additional calls kept coming as the storm moved generally northeastward. Clarksville and Paynesville were isolated completely after the storm for a short time until the local telephone people were able to establish a temporary line. Elsberry had only one line in working order. A telephone car with a mobile radio-telephone was dispatched to this area, but by the time it arrived, temporary circuits had been connected.

By about 8 a. m. Saturday service at the various points involved was well on the way to normal, with construction crews having been working for several hours.

St. Louis City Workers Vote Strike Again

Garbage, Rubbish Collectors Do Not Like New Pay Plan

ST. LOUIS, May 1 (AP)—Garbage and rubbish collectors, who returned to work today after a two-day walkout, voted tonight to strike again Monday after the Board of Aldermen's ways and means committee had approved a new pay plan for city employes.

Joseph L. Ames, business agent of the AFL State, County and Municipal Employes Union, said that 500 members of Locals 610 and 722 would strike "as of now" and picket lines would be thrown up around city buildings Monday.

He said the main complaint against the plan is that it does not provide wage increases for city employes in lower classifications.

The collectors, employed by the Department of Streets and Sewers, withdrew their picket lines along with striking AFL electricians and machinists yesterday.

The city's 131 electricians started the strike Wednesday, protesting a delay in approving the pay plan drawn up by the Civil Service Commission. Final passage of the plan is expected Monday.

Other members of the county and municipal employes union include street cleaners and traffic control and street repairing employes.

"Our quarrel," said Ames, "is with the Civil Service Commission and not with the Board of Aldermen or any other union."

He said lower classification employes had sought a $35 monthly increase, but its request was passed over by the commission in drawing up the plan.

Ames said the picket lines would be thrown around buildings where the striking members work. City Hall would not be included, he said.

Members of the aldermanic ways and means committee said the board would request the commission to recommend amendments to the plan later to cover inadequacies. The aldermen do not have the power to make changes in a commission bill.

Boy Scout Campaign Party Member Drowns

WARRENTON, Mo., May 1—(AP) Dale A. Branson, 13-year-old member of a Boy Scout campaign party drowned today while swimming with companions in a creek near here.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Branson of near Overland in St. Louis County.

Authorities said the boy, a member of the Overland Scout Troop 340 was swimming with two friends in Charette Creek when he apparently became exhausted and grabbed a projecting rock, only to lose his grip and fall back into about 10 feet of water.

His 12-year-old brother, Douglas was swimming some distance from the scene. Rescue attempts by the two companions were unsuccessful. His body was recovered about three hours later.

French Warplanes Plaster Vietminh For 3rd Straight Day

HANOI, Indochina, May 1—(AP)—French warplanes today plastered Red-led Vietminh coiled around Dien Bien Phu for the third straight day. A French high command spokesman described the situation there as "very serious" but he asserted the bastion's defenders were far from desperate.

Fighters and bombers from land and carrier bases concentrated on rebel fortifications set up on the rim of the plain barely 600 yards from the heart of the Northwest Indochina bastion.

Object of the air strikes was to retard Vietminh attempts to build up for an all-out assault and to provide cover for transport planes funnelling men, munitions and materiel to the beleaguered bastion.

Ground action was light.

Patrol Arrests Four Young Men Accused Robbery

HARRISONVILLE (AP) — Quick work by Highway Patrolman E. V. Nash resulted in the arrest today of four young men accused of robbing a Kansas trio who had stopped to give assistance to stranded motorists.

Victims of the hold-up were George Feden, Kansas City, Kan., Lucille Fossett, Kansas City, Kan., and Lloyd Eakins, Turner, Kan.

Nash said the four men arrested admitted theft of an automobile at Joplin and robbery of the three Kansans. The patrolman said the Joplin car ran out of gasoline eight miles north of Nevada and that the four flagged down Feden. When he stopped, Nash said, they held him up with an unloaded rifle, robbed him of $50 and took his car.

Nash spotted Feden's car from a broadcast description as it passed a weighing station and arrested the four on U. S. 71 bypass 11 miles north of Harrisonville. They offered no resistance.

The patrol said the men under arrest were booked as Donald Wade Williams, 20, and James Edward Potett, 21, both of Joplin; Jesse Martin, 23, Jeanerette, La., and Bill Lee Glenn, 19, Rock Island, Ill. They were returned to Nevada, Mo., today for the filing of formal charges.

Officers said the four ran out of gasoline in the car taken at Joplin eight miles north of Nevada and flagged down Feden as he drove toward Kansas City. After Feden stopped, the patrol said, the men robbed him of his money and took his car, leaving the couple stranded. They notified authorities and the patrol set up a roadblock nine miles north of Harrisonville where the four were arrested without resistance in the Feden car.

Bush apparently died of a heart attack.

City Will Begin Its Twice Weekly Pickup Of Garbage Monday

The city's sanitary department will start its regular twice weekly garbage pickup on Monday within the city limits of Sedalia. Garbage cans should be placed near the alley. If there is no alley, the cans should be placed near the curb, but only on the regular days of pickup.

Harry Moore, chairman of the sewer and sanitation committee, asks householders to check their garbage cans for sanitation. The cans should have a tight-fitting lid, a solid bottom and a handle. If one does not meet these requirements, it should be replaced with a new one.

Garbage should be wrapped in a newspaper to keep the container sanitary.

Dulles Prepares To Leave

East-West Bargains For Setting Up Peace Conference Into Decisive Phase

GENEVA, May 1 (AP)—East-West negotiations for setting up peace talks on Indochina entered a decisive phase tonight as U.S. Secretary of State Dulles prepared to leave Monday without having exchanged a word with Red China's foreign minister Chou En-lai.

Representatives of the Big Four, North and South Korea and Red China met for 2½ hours this afternoon on Korea. Asst. U.S. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson described the discussions as "an informal exchange of views" and said no decisions were reached. He added that the group probably would meet again on a later date.

The seven-nation parley was decided upon this morning at a meeting of the 16 nations which fought in Korea. The conference has been unable to reach any agreement on unification of Korea.

Dulles met with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov on the proposals by the United States to establish a pool of atomic materials for peaceful purposes. It was the second such meeting this week.

A communique issued by the U.S. delegation indicated no conclusions had been reached. The communique said a reply to an earlier American note handed over by Molotov at the first meeting with Dulles will be studied further in Washington.

Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Quoc Dinh was on the outskirts of Geneva prepared to discuss with the Western Big Three statesmen the delicate diplomatic problem of seating Viet Nam representatives at the same table with representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh regime.

Bao Dai, Vietnamese chief of state, has insisted that any formula for calling or accomplishing the peace parley which gives national recognition to his Vietminh enemies will be rejected. He has agreed in principal to meeting with the Vietminh in an effort to stop the bloodshed in Viet Nam.

Dinh began his discussions on procedure at St. Julien, just across the border from Geneva in France, with Marc Jacquet, French minister for the affairs of the Associated States. A spokesman for Dinh said invitations of the Ho Chi Minh regime must not imply recognition of a Vietminh government.

The spokesman for Dinh said he had been invited to come to Geneva to discuss procedure by the Big Three. He was waiting at St. Julien for an appointment with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at the latter's villa.

He was expected to confer briefly with Bidault and then have talks with all Big Three representatives.

Dinh's spokesman said the difficulty over invitations to the conference dates back to the final communique of the Berlin conference. The term "interested states" was used by the Big Four in discussing the composition of the conference on Indochina.

If invitations are issued on this basis with explicitly stating the Vietminh status, it will be interpreted throughout Asia as recognition of the Vietminh regime as a state, the spokesman said.

Dulles, after meeting with Molotov to discuss again the atomic pool, went to the lakeside villa of his French colleague for lunch with Bidault and Lord Reading, undersecretary of tate in the British Foreign Office.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden dropped in for a brief talk with the other guests before lunch.

Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith arrived by plane from Washington shortly before lunch. He went into a huddle with Dulles between the secretary's meeting with Molotov and the luncheon. Smith will sit in here for Dulles after the secretary's departure Monday for Milan and Washington.

Record May Snowfall At International Falls

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Residents of this Canadian border city called "Merry Christmas" to each other today as a record May snowfall of six inches covered the ground.

Some motorists got out their chains again, and many of those who didn't ended up in ditches. Weatherman Richard Fox was among the latter.

The new snow brought the season's total to 84 inches.

Tornadoes Tear Through Okla.; 2 Dead

Untold Property Damage; Half of One Town Demolished

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 1 (AP) A boiling line of tornadoes whipped up through Oklahoma tonight, slamming into at least 12 towns with two dead and 11 persons injured and untold property damage reported.

The highway patrol said it had fragmentary reports that "half the town of Meeker," 30 miles east of Oklahoma City, was demolished. Population of Meeker is about 1,000.

The patrol dispatched troopers to the scene and police and emergency equipment also rushed toward Meeker from Oklahoma City.

The storms earlier struck near Tipton, Snyder, Grandfield, Warwick, Prague, Pawnee, Saskwa, Dale, south of Ponca City and at Coalgate.

Roughly, the line of swirling destruction traveled from the southwest to the northeast.

Three persons were injured when twin funnels struck Tipton in southwestern Oklahoma early in the day.

Two were killed and four more suffered injuries, one seriously, when a storm battered Grandfield. Four others were reported hurt by a twister at Pawnee.

Heavy winds, rain and hail also pounded the Oklahoma City area and the metropolitan center of Tulsa was put under an alert.

The first storm moved into Oklahoma at Tipton in mid-afternoon, injuring three on the outskirts of town. The same twin funnels swirled near Snyder, only 18 miles northeast of Tipton, doing minor damage there.

Hail pummeled both cities and heavy rain deluged the area. Ten to 12 houses were destroyed and the roof was blown off the school building.

"But everything is under control now," officers reported.

A few hours later a storm struck Grandfield, also in southwestern Oklahoma, injuring four persons and destroying six or eight houses.

The tornado first appeared headed direct for the downtown section. The town siren wailed while citizens ran frantically for cover. But as it neared the city, it turned away, sideswiping the northeast edge.

Killed were Bill Scherler, about 30, and a woman identified only as Mrs. Rubottom.

They and Mrs. Max Scherler, reportedly Bill Scherler's mother, were in a truck trying to reach a storm cellar when the twisting funnel overtook them.

Mrs. Max Scherler was critically hurt. She was taken to a Walters, Okla., hospital.

The two were killed near the Apheatone community on the Grandfield outskirts.

Donald Ray Nease, 10, was reported critically hurt when he was blown 55 yards from his home which was destroyed.

Another tornadic wind moved through the Dale community four miles west of Shawnee in central Oklahoma tonight. Several cars were blown off the road, many homes slightly damaged with some injuries reported. Further details were not available.

Four rural homes were ripped apart near Pawness, farm buildings flattened and five persons injured.

Some of the injured included passengers of a bus in town which was blown off the highway by the twister. Several homes were splintered.

Get a Sympathetic Congress—

Hennings Says Eisenhower Should Campaign for Democrats in Fall

KANSAS CITY, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said tonight President Eisenhower should campaign for the Democrats next fall in order to get a sympathetic Congress.

A substantial Democratic victory restoring Democratic control of both House and Senate, Hennings said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Young Democrats of Missouri, "will assure the president that those of his programs that are really constructive will receive the sympathetic consideration they warrant."

"The only constructive measures the president has proposed have been those which, in essence, are a continuation of Democratic programs," he explained. "These programs receive bitter opposition among his Republican cohorts. In order to insure these programs, the president really should be out campaigning this fall for Democrats."

Hennings followed the pattern set by other speakers at the party gathering, lambasting the Republicans administration. Former Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, in an afternoon speech, attacked the Republican farm program.

The Missouri senator scored what he termed confusion in Washington.

"The bright and shining advertising slogans of the hucksters of the great crusade have become tarnished and shopworn," he said. "Instead of a 'dynamic' legislative program, we find the Congress bogged down in a quagmire of so-called 'investigations'; instead of unified and responsible leadership toward a peaceful world and national security, we have at our country's helm a party torn by internal strife and bickering, pulling in all directions except forward."

Hennings said the nation's foreign policy was uncertain, asking with reference to Indochina: "Is there a policy at all—or is there utter chaos."

Citing what he called conflicting statements on Indochina by Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles and Republican leaders in the Congress, Hennings commented:

"Any thoughtful person, in or out of Washington, who attempts to reconcile all these conflicting statements must feel hopelessly lost. These hapless and unhappy gyrations have the effect of frightening our allies and bewildering our own people."

The senator said party dissention among the Republicans, developed during the years it was in the minority, has become a habit "so deeply ingrained that they go on throwing rocks at each other just to keep in practice."

The Democrats, Hennings said, are better equipped to deal with the situation.

"We have been faced with one serious crisis after another over the years," he said. "When faced with a critical problem, national or international, we have not wrung our hands and tried to solve our problems by irresponsible double talk. . . We are resourceful, we are imaginative we

GOP Leaders Seek Ways to Streamline McCarthy Hearings

Sen. Mundt Declares He May Restate Issues In Effort to Keep Questioning to the Point, Tendency to Drift Away From Basic Questions

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD), hunting ways to speed up the McCarthy-Pentagon dispute, said today he may restate the issues in the angry controversy in an effort to keep questioning to the point.

The acting chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said he felt such a restatement might expedite matters. He said he felt there had been a tendency of all concerned to drift away he felt there had been a tendency of all concerned to drift away from the basic questions.

The subcommittee is to resume its televised hearings on Monday, with secretary of the Army Stevens called back for further questioning. He has been in the witness chair off and on since the first day, April 22.

Sen. Mundt threw cold water on the idea of calling Sen. McCarthy as the next witness after Stevens.

The Army's special counsel, Joseph N. Welch, said yesterday that in the interest of expediting the proceedings he was willing to have McCarthy follow Stevens rather than going ahead with the presentation of the Army's case.

However, Mundt said he and Ray H. Jenkins, the subcommittee's special counsel, agreed that it would be better for the Army to complete presentation its side before evidence was taken from McCarthy and his aides.

Mundt said Jenkins felt that calling McCarthy immediately after Stevens would result in delaying the hearings. He emphasized that Jenkins did not mean that Welch had made his proposal with that in mind.

McCarthy said yesterday he would be available to take the witness chair at any time.

Mundt was asked if any proposals had been made to limit the testimony to Stevens and McCarthy, without having their subordinates as witnesses, in an effort to expedite the hearings.

He said some senators had asked him why the subcommittee didn't "get it down to two people," but he added that these suggestions had not come from "anyone with any authority or any knowledge of the case."

Mundt remarked that it sounded simpler than it was, adding any such agreement would have to be worked out by all the parties to the controversy. He said this seemed "very doubtful" to him.

In other developments, Mundt said the subcommittee expected to have from both sides early next week any transcribed notes they had on monitored telephone conversations bearing on the issues.

He said he assumed those submitted by the Army would include two telephone talks between Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams late last November about McCarthy's reaction to the possible removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commander of Ft. Monmouth.

He said these and another monitored call between Stevens and McCarthy last Nov. 7 should be "very illuminating."

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a subcommittee member, said he thought many people were losing sight of the issues under investigation, adding there seemed to be a widespread misconception that the hearings concered only the treatment of a private in the Army.

He was referring to Pvt. G. David Schine, scion of a wealthy family who was an unpaid consultant of the subcommittee until he was drafted last November.

Potter said that in his opinion "extremely serious" charges were involved.

"The question on one side," he said, "is whether the investigating arm of the Senate was improperly used as a weapon in an attempt to secure preferential treatment for Pvt. Schine."

"On the other side," he added, "the question is whether the Army improperly used Pvt. Schine as a tool or a pawn in an effort to impede or call off a Senate investigation of itself."

If the charges on either side are true, Potter said, "the individuals responsible are guilty of a violation of a public trust." It is because of the serious nature of the charges, he said, that subcommittee members "are spending all their time on this."

Sedalia Lions Give Cleanup Week Selling

Goal of $3,000 In Merchandise Selling Gets Close

The Sedalia Lions Club, 104 members strong, gave Sedalia a good selling for cleanup week which is soon to arrive. The members have worked Sedalia hard the past week end selling house brooms down to street brooms, clothes brushes, to ironing board pads and covers. There was hardly a Sedalia housewife that didn't get contacted by either a Lion himself or his wife and asked to buy.

The goal of $3,000 in merchandise selling is on the horizon and by Monday night should be reached. This is one of the most successful broom sales sponsored by the Lions in Missouri according to reports from other cities.

Sedalia Lions are putting the funds to good use. They are obtaining a Telebinocular eye testing machine for the parochial schools in Sedalia and Pettis County. This is a twin machine to one purchased by the Lions several years ago for the public schools of Sedalia. They are purchasing canes for the blind and near blind, as well as furnishing glasses to children who are unable to pay for them.

Some of the money is also being used in other worth while projects of the club, especially those for the children activities.

The Lion trailer at Third and Ohio will remain open all day Monday and orders will be taken by the Lions on Monday for delivery this week. If there is anyone who hasn't been contacted, they can do their part by calling a Lion or visiting the trailer and obtain their needs.

Blind persons' names should be given the Lions Club immediately so the proper size cane can be obtained for that particular person. The canes are also being given to those persons who are near blind and their names should also be forwarded to the club.

Retired Fireman Burns To Death in a Chair

KANSAS CITY, May 1 (AP)—Paul A. McMickle, 54, who retired in 1946 after 20 years with the fire department, burned to death in a chair at his home today.

Officials said the overstuffed chair apparently was ignited by a carelessly handled cigaret.

Crossroads Comment by G.H.S.

We don't know who has the most brass these days — the Army or McCarthy.

—o—

If the Senate's McCarthy-Pentagon investigators drag out their inquiry six months, many TV viewers are going to switch to Charlie Chan.

—o—

The taxpayer-financed hearing relating to Private Schine has lost lustre it it ever had any and sentiment seems to be solidifying into one descriptive word — childish. The senators have overlooked the one most important witness—X. P. Dite.

—o—

Stilted salutations such as: "It's a nice day, isn't it?" "Looks like rain, don't you think?" or "What do you know?" usually receive replies in kind like: "Sure is a nice day." "Yup, it sure looks like rain," or "Oh, I don't know much, what do you know?"

Why not try for originality like a customer in a barber shop who, when asked, "What do you know?" replied: "I'm afraid to say because it's all about myself."

"How's business?" queried the new ink salesman dropping in to discuss the use of a new formula for better printing results.

"Oh, it's good enough, but we are not trying to get rich," was the reply.

"Well, don't do it — don't try to get rich," he opined. "I had an old college chum who set out to see how much money he could accumulate. He now has piles, ul-

May Have Raise Price Supports On Dairy Products

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson may have to raise government price support levels for such dairy products as butter, cheese and dried milk.

A department report on prices received by farmers in mid-April showed today that dairy farmers were not getting the average of $3.14 for 100 pounds of manufacturing milk testing 3.95 per cent butter fat promised them under the dairy support program.

Instead, average prices received for this type milk, used mainly for making butter, cheese, dried milk and evaporated milk — was $2.93 for milk averaging 3.78 per cent butter fat. This price was equivalent to about $3.05 for milk testing 3.95 per cent butter fat — or 9 cents below the support level.

Benson has stated several times that if the prices at which the government buys butter, cheese and dried milk under the support program fail to reflect $3.14 for manufacturing milk and 56 cents a pound for butterfat to dairymen, he will raise the federal buying prices of the dairy products accordingly.

The price report showed however that dairymen received an average of 56.8 cents a pound for butterfat or almost one cent above the support level.

Sedalia Man Finds Hawaiians Much Interested In Statehood

By Gene Williams, USN
Former Member of The Democrat News Staff.

"The land of leis, hula girls, ukulele music and smooth, sandy beaches," is the manner in which many Americans would describe Hawaii. That's because those "novelties" are the fine points of the tourist attraction.

Actually the leis and hula girls are over publicized, but this would be state is much more than that. Its land is ruged, but rich. It is a military fortress equal to any, and it is inhabited by a friendly people with burning initiative and ambition and many capabilities. These people have set a goal to become the 49th state of the United States and they are determined to attain this goal.

When in Hawaii in 1952 the easiest method for strangers to start an enthusiastic conversation with island residents seemed to be by mentioning the much talked of subject, statehood. This spring, with the proposal before the nation's lawmakers, the hopeful Hawaiians suggested the topic on contact with state-siders and it was quite evident that optimism for long sought admittance to the union was higher than ever.

However, as every history making event has proven, there seemed to be some difference of attitudes. In the Honolulu area, which is heavily populated with migrated U. S. citizens, the demand for statehood is said to be in a vast majority, but certain omens indicate the demand isn't entirely positive. Those dead-set in their opinions presented what seemed logical arguments, but after hearing these varied views the exact statehood attitude became somewhat cloudy.

In regard to the present government, complete satisfaction was lacking. It was pointed out that the Hawaiians pay U. S. taxes but in return receive no official voice in government spending. As former Sedalian Lyle Sprinkle of Honolulu said: "If we are to be required to pay taxes to the government, we should also have our say and representation."

When a proposal was recently placed before legislatures in a different form than desired by Hawaiians — that of commonwealth status, it was met by hostile feelings and a Honolulu paper's editorial even hinted that it was a "scheme." Those informed on the matter used as an example the many difficulties Britain has experienced with governments under her control after granting commonwealth government. To Hawaiians, the British effort hasn't been more than moderately successful. They seek equal status with each of the present states and desire a stronger feeling of belonging than provided by a commonwealth such as effected by the British.

Considering the progress made in becoming modern, U. S. style, the high standard of morals, and the popular desire to become the 49th state, Hawaiians present an over-all strong and positive side for statehood. Being so far from the mainland, they believe, isn't or shouldn't be a handicap because of modern travel.

Hawaiians are sure their small problems can be eliminated quickly — in the meantime they are awaiting the big decision.

Chicago Sets Up Test For 'Crazy' Drivers

CHICAGO (AP)—Those automobile drivers who make you wonder why they don't have their heads examined, are going to.

A psychiatric laboratory is to be set up in Chicago to examine "crazy" drivers, Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler of the Municipal Court said yesterday.

"Psychiatrists have found that screwball motorists are really a little off in the head," Scheffler said. "The mental condition can be diagnosed by a laboratory examination."

Scheffler said the laboratory will be part of a central traffic enforcement building for police and courts which will be opened next year.

"We want to ban these nuts from automobiles on our streets and highways or to suspend their driving privileges until the psychiatrists can report a cure," Scheffler said. "When the laboratory is opened judges will send suspects there for mental analysis."

Scheffler said the "logical suspects" will include the habitual traffic offender, those who repeatedly evade court summonses and those "whose traffic conduct is a flagrant violation of common sense and normal judgment."

Lorretta Harper Crowned S-H HS Formal Queen

By Barbara Lamy

Lorretta Harper, daughter of Mrs. Lee Harper, North Prospect, was crowned queen of Sacred Heart's annual spring formal held Saturday night in the Sacred Heart gymnasium. Attended at her throne by Mary Helen Seifner, junior class princess, and Dorothy Pfeiffer, sophomore class princess, she was crowned by the highest senior class officer, Paul Ressel.

Alphonsine Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Miles, 501 South Washington, the only voice contestant from Sacred Heart High School in the state contest, won first rating in the festival held in Columbia Saturday. One hundred seventeen schools from over the state were in the competition.

Alphonsine, a senior at Sacred Heart, and a voice student of Mrs. Leone Salveter, recently was presented in her four year recital and has appeared this spring in seven music festivals, receiving superior rating in six of them and excellent in the seventh. The comment following her singing Saturday from the judges was, "A beautiful piece of work."

Again this year Alphonsine has been offered her scholarship back to the Midwestern Music Camp at the University of Kansas.

Sacred Heart's glee clubs and mixed quartet, under the direction of Sister M. Everildis, C.P.P.S., sang for the members of the Altar Society at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Both glee clubs harmonized on "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," "As Torrents in the Summer," "Mother of All" and "On the Trail" and the double mixed quartet gave their selection "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Igor Gouzenko Leads Weird Double Life

(Editor's Note: Nine years have passed since Igor Gouzenko walked out of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa and turned over to Canadian officials vital secret information which led to the breakup of a huge Communist atomic spy ring. Today Gouzenko still lives under an alien name—and takes no chances. Here's the amazing story of a man who buried himself alive for freedom.)

By SAUL PETT

MONTREAL, May 1 (AP)—The trouble with fictional melodrama is that it makes you skeptical when the real thing comes along.

And so I smiled when the man said, before we entered the hotel room, "You'd better call him 'Stephen.'"

"Stephen" rose from the couch to be introduced. A pink-cheeked man of 35, with a nervous friendliness, he pumped my hand vigorously. With one eye on the waiter clearing away the lunch dishes, he made pleasant conversation about the weather and my trip from New York. Then the door closed behind the waiter.

And then "Stephen" relaxed and became Igor Gouzenko.

He stopped talking about the weather at once and started talking about Russian spies and secret documents. He said that more members of the Russian secret police can be expected to defect as it becomes known that the two who recently broke in Australia and East Germany received a warm welcome and protection from Western hands. He spoke with the conviction of personal experience.

Gouzenko is the former Russian cipher clerk who broke a Soviet atomic spy ring in Canada in 1945, mostly with documents he took with him from the Russian embassy in Ottawa. Today, nine years later, he still can't take any chances. As long as he lives and prospers, his case may tempt other Russians to make the break. The Soviet high command can be depended on to try to eliminate all temptation.

Thus, Gouzenko continues to play—and expects to play forever—a double life, a man of mystery with two identities, both of which are known only to his wife and a handful of people within the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, he hopes.

In the small town where he lives, Gouzenko is known by another name by his children, friends and neighbors. Let's say the alias is Malok. Malok and Gouzenko are different in many ways.

Gouzenko is intensely interested in politics and world affairs. Malok can take them or leave them alone. A few months ago, when U. S. senators sought to question Gouzenko, Malok was at a dinner party with friends when suddenly the conversation turned to the Gouzenko case. Malok's heart flipped but he pretended no more interest in Gouzenko than in, say, King Farouk.

When that happens," Gouzenko said, "I try to be casual about it. I hope the subject will be changed but I try not to change it myself—or at least not change it too abruptly."

Several years ago, Mrs. Malok attended a literary discussion when suddenly the conversation turned to a book titled "The Iron Curtain," by a fellow named Gouzenko. She took the attitude that the book wasn't worth much discussion.

While he has learned to relax somewhat under the protection of the Canadian government, Gouzenko still distrusts any car which stays behind his too long. When this happens, he pulls over to the curb and lets the other fellow pass to make sure he's not being followed.

When he drives to another town, like Montreal, where he is known by some as Gouzenko, but not Malok, he stops along the countryside to change his license plates.

In Montreal, he doesn't want anyone to get a clue to where he came from.

The Maloks seldom go out at night. When they go to the movies, for example, they never go alone. Always, in a seat behind or in front of them, sits a man their neighbors know as the Malok chauffeur. The neighbors have no way of knowing that the chauffeur carries a loaded pistol in a shoulder holster and is a member of the RCMP.

There are many other precautions, both obvious and subtle, simple and complex, which Gouzenko must take in his day to day living. But he'd rather talk about the widening chinks in the MVD, the Russian secret police.

He thinks more Russians can be encouraged to break away from the MVD with valuable documents, as Vladimir Petrov did in Australia and Nikolai Khokhlov did in East Germany. This can be done, Gouzenko believes, if Western governments publicly promise:

Immediate citizenship, as soon as documents are authenticated; a 24-hour guard to protect them from Soviet reprisals; financial security and a chance to work at jobs suited to their talents; and documentary evidence, "in case they ever need to prove it," that they served their new country by helping to expose Soviet espionage.

Gouzenko did not elaborate the last point. On the question of financial security, he said he was not thinking in terms of a "bribe" but a "reward."

"After all, we must be practical," he said. "Idealism, alone, is not enough. The Russian who breaks away does so at tremendous personal risk and sacrifice. He leaves behind his family in Russia, with little hope they will be spared. The anguish of his decision is enormous.

"We in the West must go after our advantage as quickly as possible. If we can encourage more Russian agents to break, and to break in quick succession, the Kremlin will find it almost impossible to get or rely on new recruits. This could lessen the chance of another war. Espionage and infiltration are among Russia's chief weapons. When their intelligence system is undermined, they will think twice about any aggressive action."

Since he broke with the Russians in 1945, has Gouzenko ever felt any close menace, did, he ever think Soviet agents had picked up his trail?

"There were no definite signs of this," he said. "Now and then there was something suspicious but it never amounted to anything. But in those first few years, we were especially jittery."

How do the Gouzenkos—or Maloks—live?

Mostly from income by Gouzenko, the writer. Shortly after his break, he wrote several magazine articles and the book. His second book, a novel called "Fall of a Titan," has been selected by the Book of the Month Coub.

A movie several years ago, based on his break, brought his additional money. A second movie, tentatively titled "Gouzenko: Man in Hiding," is now being filmed in Canada.

In addition, the Gouzenkos have an annuity given them by a grateful Canadian who admired their courage in exposing the atomic spy ring. The annuity pays them $100 a month for the remainder of their lives.

All in all, the Gouzenkos have enough money to live in a comfortable house and own a good car. Thus, the fact that their 24-hour police guard poses as a chauffeur and general handyman does not appear incongruous.

When they broke with the Russians in 1945 and went under the protection of the government, Canada gave the Gouzenkos citizenship by a special act of the Cabinet. Canadian authorities also gave them an entirely new life story, which took the Gouzenkos three or four months to learn thoroughly.

They were given new birth certificates from a foreign country other than Russia to explain their continuing heavy accents. Their two children, 8 and 10, know nothing of their Russian background. They know only the Malok story.

Sheep Need Second Worming This Spring

If you wormed your sheep once this winter, your job is only half done.

All sheep should be wormed again before you turn them on pasture this spring.

Properly wormed sheep are more resistant to disease, produce better quality wool and lambs gain weight faster.

On the other hand, if you don't worm them this spring, your ewes may spread worm eggs in the pasture in their droppings. Young lambs pick them up while grazing and become unthrifty, anemic and even die.

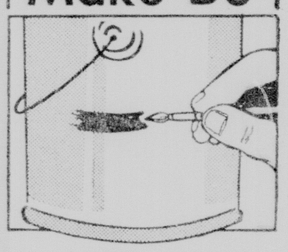

You can get phenothiazine to do the job. Give it in a drench or by capsule. Directions for either treatment are on the container.

After your sheep are on pasture, mix one pound of phenothiazine in every ten pounds of salt to keep down worms this summer. Put it in a covered trough to protect it from the weather.

It's a good idea to rotate your flocks on well-drained pastures every month. Don't overstock your pastures. If many worms show up, you may have to treat the whole flock once or twice again with phenothiazine during the pasture season.

The cardinal is one of the comparatively few bird species whose females can sing.

Georgia Has Gold Anyone Can Mine, Keep Every Oz.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., May 1 (AP)—If you've got an itch for gold, you can prospect in the north Georgia mountains and keep every ounce you find.

Folks around here can't mine gold at a profit, so they're willing to give it away.

In a promotional scheme they hope they will put their town on the tourist's map, the people of Dahlonega will not only show you where to find gold deposits, but will have old-time prospectors on hand this spring and summer to show you how to pan.

The reason for such generosity is that it costs more to mine the gold than the $35 an ounce the government has set as the legal price. Some who have tried commercial mining recently say it cost about $115 to mine $100 worth of gold.

Bill Trammel is one of the land owners who this spring will permit tourists to search for gold on his property. He has 140 acres in the middle of the gold belt.

Tourists who visit his farm will pay $1 for panning lessons, and they keep what gold they find. Trammell says the most anybody has taken out at one time so far is about $5 worth.

Regional Library Notes—

Spring Brings Big Demand For Books on Home Repair

Along with spring comes an added interest in fixing up things around the home. Out comes the paint bucket and plans for improvements of many kinds. With it comes a big demand for books about home repair and maintenance. The library has a varied collection ranging from those about minor carpentry and building repair, electrical repairs of household appliances, books on building garden and yard furniture, fences and gates, barbecue ovens and back yard pools. Several of the books about gardens and home landscaping include plans for trellises and garden furniture.

A number of books give diagrams for flower borders that will yield a variety of blooms the year around. Some require a good deal of care and others are the more common garden variety. Other books tell about bug and pest control. All are available for your free use through the library. And now is the time to make use of such information.

"How to Clean Everything" by Moore is a book of many uses. Stains, rust, paint, everything that proves to be a problem is dealt with in this book. There are books on painting with brush and spray, on the removal of paint and the refinishing of furniture, on upholstery and the repair of antiques. Other books tell how to make modern furniture, closets, cabinets and built-in furniture. Youngsters who are handy with tools may find simple designs and directions in books. In fact, they may be more interested in bird houses and toy making. All these may be found in your library.

Hennings

try something, and if it doesn't work we keep right on trying to find something better."

"America looks to us for fresh thinking, creative planning and bold action," he concluded.

Brannan told the Young Democrats the nation is witnessing "the greatest organized attack on farm programs since the agricultural adjustment administration decisions."

"Effective price supports are to be abandoned if this administration has its way.

"By the same processes we are to create a scarcity of farmers," he added. "The marginal farmer must still go, according to the present administration, which at the same time carefully refrains from identifying those who are marginal farmers.

Brannan said the administration also is creating a scarcity of credit, jobs, housing, airpower, ground forces and a shortage of electric power" by abandoning the hydro-electric resources of the people to the hands of petty exploiters."

"There is even to be a scarcity of friends as certain powerful isolationist elements in the Republican party have their way," he said.

Brannan chided President Eisenhower for purportedly saying that the expenses of the farm program was the reason the budget couldn't be balanced.

"If you closed the Department of Agriculture, fired the secretary—a very popular request at times—discharged the janitor, we'd save only 1½ per cent of the national budget."

He cited some figures in which he said that since 1937 the farm program had cost the taxpayers only $40 per capital. He also said you could cut cotton price supports 10 to 15 per cent and all you would save would be about a cent and a half in the price of a cotton dress shirt.

Brannan was introduced by his old chief, Harry S. Truman, who said he had appointed him to carry out the policies the president was trying to implement.

"We thought it was right then and we think it is right now," the former president said.

At their session today the young Democrats praised the efforts of state officials and Senators Symington and Hennings and went on record as endorsing Haskell Holman, state auditor, for a full term in office.

In another resolution they recommended "appropriate legislation and allocation of necessary funds to the end that the standard for the state's care of the mentally ill will meet the approval of the American Psychiatric Association."

They also recommended that the President and Republican senators be called upon to deal with those "elements of theirs" who would and are placing individual ambition and greed above the welfare of the nation."

They also called for replacement of Secretary Benson.

The Young Democrats also voted to meet once a year instead of every two years.

Horace Mann Parent Education Class Meets

The program was a panel discussion on, "From a Child's Point of View," with Mrs. Helman's fifth grade students participating.

After the program, a dessert luncheon was served to 16 members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Worth Wilson and Mrs. Ernest Vertz.

Curses, that old landlord problem is back with us again. Complaints are made that Sedalia rents are too high without rent controls. Some used to say they were too high even with controls. It's a more'. Complaints are from local renters. We haven't heard a chirp from the air base folks. If they have any, send 'em in—signed. Sedalians, too. Be charitable, though, because the poor landlords have to live, although some of you don't see why.

With election time coming up an air of efficiency is beginning to permeate the court house and actually has been wafted up into the workings of the old clock on the roof. At noon Friday the timepiece struck twelve right on the nose with Western Union.

Of this accuracy let's have more in fifty-four.

Ringing of the court house clock has its most pleasant tonal quality at the hour of midnight for parents who know the teenagers and themselves are tucked in safely.

One of those chronicled events in the Scriptures that puzzles teenagers is why Moses waited until he was an old man before bringing down the Ten Commandments.

May Day Mixed With Snow, Sleet, Freezing Rain

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet, freezing rain, heavy thunderstorms and tornado activity were mixed in Kansas' May Day celebration yesterday. (Saturday).

The snow and sleet pushed into Northwestern Kansas where Colby reported four inches on the ground and Goodland three inches.

At the opposite corner in Southeastern Kansas a tornado sliced across farm land a mile east of Independence about 6 p. m., knocking down long-distance telephone lines and wrecking a building on the Fred Gooseman farm.

Thunderstorms left heavy rainfall in spots elsewhere over the state. Hutchinson got half an inch in less than an hour.

Independence and Coffeyville had more than an inch of rain and hail. Russell received 1.31 inch, Hill City 1.33 and Hays more than an inch.

In the dry southwest section Dodge City reported .62 inch and Garden City .59, the heaviest rain there in nearly a year. Farmers in that section said there wasn't much wheat left to be helped by the rain, but the moisture would improve prospects for grain sorghums.

At Colby, trees were bending low under burdens of ice. The snow and freezing rain brought nearly an inch of moisture in that section where the wheat crop already in good condition. Goodland got .42 inch from its snow and sleet.

The snow and sleet moved into Garden City last night.

Truesdale reported 1.43 inches of rain, St. John 1.50 and Meade more than an inch.

Liberal reported .36 inch, Chanute .12, Concordia .25, Wichita .04.

Calvin Crawford, 17, Holden, charged with careless driving, pleaded guilty in police court and was fined $25. Crawford and Thomas figured in an accident at Clay and Moniteau Friday night.

Walter Lee Long, 17, of 1216 East Ninth, charged with careless driving at Fifth and Lafayette, failed to appear in court and his $25 cash bond was ordered forfeited.

Ralph A. Linden, 22, Scott Field, Ill., charged with driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, pleaded guilty and was fined $75 by Judge R. L. Weinrich. He was unable to pay the fine and was committed to the city jail. He is on leave from the Scott Field AFB.

Five overtime parking violators who failed to appear in court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each.

Police Reports

Martha Boyles, 600 East Broadway, reported losing her billfold with about a $1 in change in it and her driver's license.

A wheel and tire, found in the 100 block on East Main, were taken to police headquarters where the owner can claim them.

A quarter of a bushel basket of Hersney chocolate bars was found in the 100 block on West Second. The owner, Charlie Peters, was located and they were returned to him.

Elizabeth Bova, Chicago, Ill., reported to the police of losing her purse, containing $43 in cash and a government check for $83.22, sometime Friday afternoon. She reported she believed it was lost in a City Cab, but a check there revealed no such purse had been found.

Janet Keele, route 3, Sedalia, reported her car was hit while parked in the 300 block on South Lamine. The left rear fender was dented and the paint scratched. The accident occurred sometime between 4 and 6 p. m. Friday.

Probes of Reds in Government May Never Be the Same Again

WASHINGTON, May 1—(AP)—Whether it is win, lose or draw for him, Sen. McCarthy's investigation of alleged Communists in government may never be the same again as the result of the spectacular inquiry into his dispute with Army officials.

The Wisconsin Republican senator wears the air of a man supremely confident of the outcome of the controversy created by Army charges that he and his aides sought favored military treatment for millionaire draftee Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid McCarthy consultant.

But even if McCarthy should prove to the satisfaction of a lot of people his counter charge that Secretary of the Army Stevens and his aides used Schine as a "hostage" in efforts to halt McCarthy's Communist hunt, some investigative changes seem inevitable.

For instance, there are some clear indications that even if he regards himself as completely exonerated, Roy M. Cohn is likely to step out as McCarthy's chief counsel and right hand man.

McCarthy has said flatly that on the outcome of the present inquiry depends the jobs of Cohn and Francis P. Carr, ex-New York FBI agent and chief of McCarthy's staff.

The poker-faced Carr thus far has been the silent man of the televised hearings but his turn before the cameras is coming.

Cohn declined to comment on whether he intends to quit the committee, regardless of the outcome. But some of his friends think he will go back to the private practice of law which he is continuing on a part time basis now.

Two other members of McCarthy's staff have been brought under fire at the hearings.

James Juliana, also an ex-FBI man, proved himself a cool and alert witness in assuming full responsibility for "cropping" Col. Jack Bradley out of a McGuire Air Force Base picture showing Stevens and Schine looking at each other on the ramp of an airplane.

But Juliana's testimony—that he decided to give Ray H. Jenkins, special inquiry counsel, the photo the attorney used in grilling Stevens on whether he had ever had his picture made "alone" with Schine—obviously left some committe members displeased.

The testimony of George Anastos, another staffer, as to his role in Schine's delivery of the picture to McCarthy aides, seemed to leave some committee members with doubts in their minds about the events he described.

A Republican committee member, who didn't want to be quoted by name, summed up his reactions to the first seven days of the inquiry with the observation that some staff changes may be in order after the investigation ends, no matter what is the final result.

A Democratic member, who also asked to remain anonymous, predicted a "wholesale house cleaning."

This Democrat made it clear, moreover, that he and other members of his party are likely to be more critical publicly of McCarthy's methods than they have been in the past. There will be no more one-man hearings, he asserted.

McCarthy has made no secret of the fact that the prospect of lengthy hearings disturbs him. He has called the whole inquiry a "waste of time" and has contended that it is interrupting the business of rooting out alleged Communists.

More to the point, perhaps, is the fact that the inquiry is eating rapidly into the $207,000 available this year for investigations by the subcommittee, from which he has stepped down temporarily as chairman.

Governor's Wife Will Campaign For His Office

NEW ORLEANS, May 1—(AP)—Mrs. Willie Murray, comely 45-year old wife of Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray, said today she would wage a vigorous campaign in the 16-candidate race for her husband's office.

The red-haired former school teacher said her husband filed for her and was calm about her 15 opponents.

"I respect my husband's decisions," she said, "and since a governor of Oklahoma cannot succeed himself, I am ready to conduct an aggressive campaign."

She said she hoped the plain people of Oklahoma speak on election day for a continuation of her husband's policy for a greater Oklahoma.

Mrs. Murray was waiting here for the arrival of her husband, "probably by plane" for their 21st wedding anniversary today. Mrs. Murray came to New Orleans early this week as a delegate to the Mississippi Valley World Trade Conference.

She said her husband has issued a statement that he will not run for the U. S. Senate at the same time she is running for governor.

Says Baker's Sore Throat Lead to Food Poisoning of Employes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Herbert R. Domke, St. Louis County health commissioner, says a baker's sore throat led to food poisoning of about 50 Emerson Electric Co. employes Wednesday.

Domke said last night that laboratory tests showed the following: The baker made caramel pecan pies Tuesday, then was sent home because of his throat. Toxic bacteria—the same bacteria found in the man's throat—got into the pies.

Because he went home kitchen routine was upset and the pies weren't stored in refrigerators. The bacteria multiplied before the pies were served Wednesday noon. Thus the illness of the workers who ate them.

Had the pies been refrigerated, Domke said, there would have been no danger.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Albert L. Paglino, 28-year-old St. Louis meat cutter, yesterday was indicted for first-degree murder by a St. Louis County grand jury for the slaying of an unidentified man buried as Paglino.

The charred body was found in the burned cabin and was buried as Paglino's at a funeral on April 9.

Paglino was arrested April 15 at his father's home. His wife and a friend, James A. McCormick, who served as a pallbearer at the funeral, also were arrested and all three were charged in warrants with first-degree murder.

'Budget Firsters' Made US Defenses Weaker Than Ever

DETROIT, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said tonight that Republican "budget firsters" have made America's defenses "relatively weaker" than at any other time in history.

Symington, former Air Force secretary, made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

He said that after last year's five-billion-dollar cut in Air Force appropriations the Republican administration "ballyhooed the idea that this year great emphasis would be on the air power."

Then he asked:

"How many citizens know that, despite that ballyhoo, today the Republican administration is recommending fewer planes and fewer trained people for the Air Force than it did last year?"

And he added in his nationally broadcast speech:

"This country today is relatively weaker—relatively is the important word—against the military might of Soviet Russia than it has ever been against any possible enemy in the history of our country."

Two Candidates File For Recall Election Of Mayor and Official

CAPE GIRARDEAU, May 1 (AP)—Two candidates filed today for the recall election of Mayor Manning P. Greer and Roy Smith, fire and health commissioner.

Narvol A. Randol joined in the race for mayor and U. G. Pettigrew filed for commissioner. The election is May 11.

Greer and Smith are on the ballot automatically.

The election was scheduled after city firemen, protesting the firing of three of their members, filed petitions with sufficient signatures to require the recall balloting.

Had no opponents filed for the office, however, the recall action would have failed.

The three firemen involved later were reinstated, but two of them were reduced in rank.

Raven Reminder

A raven is kept at Merseburg castle, near Halle, Germany, as a reminder of a grave injustice. Many years ago, a servant was executed for the theft of a valuable ring belonging to the Bishop. The ring actually was stolen by a raven. When one bird dies, another is placed in its stead immediately.

SAFETY IS A YEAR ROUND JOB, but it takes on special emphasis May 1 at Sedalia Air Force Base as the Strategic Air Command's "Safe Wheels — '54" campaign begins. Determined that their cars should be safe, Col. Franklin K. Reyher, base commander (left), and Col. Chester C. Cox, 340th Bomb Wing Commander (right) had their cars inspected at a garage. Dealers in Warrensburg and Sedalia are joining SAFB in its drive by offering free car checks to base personnel. Mr. Frank Monro, (center) ground safety director, looks on as the commanders notice one of the many necessary checks the mechanic is making. During May many others will have their cars inspected to make sure they'll be alive in '55.

SAFB Starts Safety Program, Repeating Earlier Savings

"Safe Wheels — '54," a special intensified drive against all vehicular accidents, has been announced for May 1-31 by the Ground Safety Section at Sedalia Air Force Base, a Strategic Air Command installation.

A repeat of the 1952 and 1953 command-wide programs, which saved the Air Force more than $1,000,000 in addition to bringing about noteworthy reductions in vehicular deaths, injuries and accidents, this year's 31-day campaign is designed to tie in with a similar nation-wide drive.

Automotive dealers in Warrensburg and Sedalia are joining Sedalia AFB in the campaign by offering free auto and brake inspections to men at the base. The 340th Bomb Wing Commander, Col. Chester C. Cox, and the 340th Air Base Group Commander, Col. Franklin K. Reyher, will have their cars inspected by the base motor pool to launch a drive to check most of the vehicles on the base.

In a message to all commanders, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, SAC's commander, has requested "the support of all personnel in reducing needless waste of human life, unnecessary suffering and source of economic loss to our personnel."

An average of two deaths per day resulting from vehicle mishaps occurs in the Strategic Air Command, which has bases all over the world. This is a surprisingly low total, but SAC is constantly shooting for a perfect record. At Sedalia Air Force Base there have been only four injuries resulting from auto accidents this year. This includes military and civilian vehicles. The base received a citation from Second Air Force, a subcommand of SAC, last year for its good safety record.

During May, base ground safety officials will aim for a command-wide record of 31 consecutive days without a vehicular fatality, an accident-free month in the operation of government vehicles, and a reduction of all private motor vehicle accidents and injuries.

Stressing a theme of "Will You Be Alive in '55," SAC ground safety officers point out that more than 1,050,000 persons have died as the result of vehicular accidents in the past 54 years, and that they will continue to die at the rate of 37,000 or more a year unless the driver resolves to assume his moral as well as civic responsibilities behind the wheel.

As in the past, outstanding records of bases during the campaign will be recognized by the presentation of appropriate trophies and plaques by SAC headquarters.

Catledge Says Newspapers Have Great Obligation

COLUMBIA (AP) — "Apparent apathy on the part of readers does not release us from our obligation to print the news," Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times said last night.

Catledge spoke at a dinner session at the University of Missouri's Journalism Week.

(Mr. and Mrs. George H. Scruton, Mr. and Mrs. K. U. Love and Mr. and Mrs. Carl McIntire of the Sedalia Democrat, attended the banquet.)

He said printing serious news is still good business for newspapers even if readers do spend 10 times as much time reading sports, features and other entertainment matter as they spend reading news of national and international affairs.

"The old adage that 'you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink' is true," Catledge said, "but he sure can't drink unless he has water."

Another banquet speaker was Louis B. Seizer, editor of the Cleveland Press.

Earlier Catledge received a medal of honor from the school for distinguished service in journalism. Seizer accepted a similar award on behalf of his newspaper.

Initial Measuring Of 1954 Wheat Crop Completed

The initial measuring of 1954-crop wheat has now been completed in Pettis County with the exception of a few individual cases. Measurement on these tracts will be completed within the next two weeks, states Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Preparatory work for the issuance of Wheat Marketing Cards as provided by the law is under way at the county ASC office. These cards will be issued to all wheat producers whose harvested wheat acreage does not exceed the farm wheat acreage allotment or not more than 15 acres which ever is the larger. Marketing cards will be required for the sale of any 1954-crop wheat to warehousemen or buyers. The county ASC office must therefore have in their files a record of the measured wheat on all Pettis County farms before a marketing card can be issued. Any producer, therefore, who has not been advised of his measured acreage should contact the county ASC office to have his wheat measured and thereby provide the necessary information for issuance of a card, explained Rissler.

Sunday School Lesson Notes

A Revolutionist Who Failed
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

History is well marked with the tragedies of reformers and revolutionaries, who, having succeeded in overthrowing corrupt and tyrannical governments, soon began to display all the evils they had professed to abolish.

A great example of this was Jeroboam, the rebel who, on the death of King Solomon, led the successful revolt of Ten Tribes against Rehoboam, the heir of Solomon.

Jeroboam became the undisputed ruler of the Northern Kingdom of Israel, with a great and notable opportunity. Yet how, in the words of the Prophet Ahijah, he "did evil above all that were before him," is set forth in 1 Kings 14, and following chapters.

I am disposed to leave Jeroboam and his evil ways for the present, and use my comment this week for a word regarding two books about the Bible that seem to me of the utmost importance, both published by Harper and Brothers, in New York.

Somewhat belatedly, for the book was originally published in 1940, I have become acquainted with HARPER'S TOPICAL CONCORDANCE, the work of Charles R. Joy.

I have constantly urged the use of Biblical concordances of the older type, such as Young's, but the Concordance by Dr. Joy, also based on the King James Version, goes far beyond all former concordances which have depended entirely upon the location of key words.

In this enormous work, Dr. Joy has arranged 25,000 texts under 2150 topics, the effect of which is to give practically every Biblical text dealing with any particular subject, regardless of whether the name, or a key word, appears in the text.

Also, to make sure that the subject is fully covered, almost every topic has attached to it a cross reference. I am appalled at the amount of labor which went into this work, but I am equally amazed at its quality.

The work is so completely objective, and free from any theological bias, that it may be used with confidence by those of all faiths. Dr. Joy cites, scrupulously without comment, only what the Bible says.

The other book, so recent that a second volume is yet to appear, is more definitely a work of interpretation. It is GREAT IDEAS of the Bible, by Mrs. Rylils Alexander Goslin Lynip.

The brilliance of its literary style is matched only by the clarity and penetration with which the author develops the great Bible teachings.

I may have more to say about this book when the second volume appears.

Ace Cameraman Will Speak For K&F Club Friday Night

John D. Craig, former army officer, crack photographer, adventurer, author and an authority on the Age of Science, will be the guest speaker at the Knife and Fork Club Friday night at Hotel Bothwell.

It is believed that a large number of the members will be on hand to hear the colorful Lt. Colonel speak on various interesting aspects of this new phase of life into which all of us have been propelled.

Craig has evolved a philosophy that is ideally suited to a man of action who has frequently come to grips with the Final Decision. Says he: "No matter what a man does, death stands at his side. So why worry? For all we know, death may be a good deal more fun than living."

And Craig has had more than a speaking acquaintance with death for many years. He has won battles with it in such varied fields as the atom bomb tests at Bikini (where he was the official government photographer), photographing the volcano Mauno Loa while it was in eruption, tiger hunting in the interior of India and making films on the floor of the ocean for which he devised special camera and diving equipment.

John D. Craig

He is acknowledged by Hollywood to have been the first to have made natural color under-water moving pictures. Other Hollywood honors include the winning of the Academy Award, and his film on Hawaii was selected by Warner Brothers as one of their 20th Anniversary of Sound presentations.

First Gray Horse in History to Collect Stakes—

Determine Races a Length and Half Ahead to Win $124,000 Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, May 1 (AP)—Determine, a little package of dynamite from California, became the first gray horse in history to win the Kentucky Derby as he caught the front-running Hasty Road about a sixteenth of a mile from home today in the 80th running of America's horse race classic.

With a wildly screaming throng of 100,000 watching the $124,100 thriller, pockey Ray York put his pint-sized colt ahead of the 16 other 3-year-olds to drag down the richest purse since the Derby was inaugurated in 1875.

To owner Andy Crevolin, Alhambra, Calif., automobile dealer, went a $102,050 jackpot — $4,000 more than Count Turf earned by the 1951 Derby. Hasseyampa finished third.

This afternoon's race, with humid, muggy 80 degree weather laying a haze over ancient Churchill Downs, was sweet revenge for Determine. Four days ago in the Derby trial, Hasty Road beat Determine by a head as the Hasty House Farm's speediest broke the track record for a mile with a 1:35 clocking.

It seemed then that if California was to gather any Derby laurels this year, it would have to be up to Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, for Determine seemed a tried little rascal after chasing Hasty Road last Tuesday.

Correlation, owned by a Los Angeles oil man, was not in the trial, having won the Wood Memorial last Saturday in New York. Previously he had won the Florida Derby, so the crowd made him the 3-1 favorite this afternoon. Correlation, however, wasn't up to it on the dusty Down's racing strip, as he finished sixth.

A year ago when the great Native Dancer failed by a head to win the mile and a quarter race in Dark Star's upset victory, they shook their heads. If the Dancer couldn't, then no grey horse can possibly do the job.

But determined little Determine, who had won the Santa Anita Derby and five other stakes in California before flying here to lose Tuesday, showed them that this business of picking derby winners is no cinch.

York, in winning his first derby after finishing fourth on Phil D in 1951 and fifth on Arroz, another California-owned horse in 1952, gave Determine a confident ride and came under the wire a length and a half ahead of Hasty Road, greatest money-winning 2-year-old in history with earnings of $277,132. Hasty Road is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Toledo, O.

Hasty Road, who led from the start of the gruelling run, wound up two and a half lengths ahead of the third horse, Hasseyampa, owned by the Walmac Farm of R. W. McIlvain, Chicago and Lexington, Ky.

In fourth place, another two and a half lengths back, was Goyamo, whose co-owner, Royce G. Martin, Toledo, died in a Lexington hospital a few minutes after the race was run today. Martin suffered a heart attack yesterday. His Woodvale farm and Mrs. Alton Jones owned Goyamo jointly.

Determine, who was bumped in a jam created at the start by Hasty Road and Dr. A. L. Birch's Timely Tip, was second betting choice at 4-1, with his stablemate, Allied.

The Crevolin ace bounced home in 2:03 compared with Whirlaway's derby and track record of 2:01 2/5 set in 1941. Determine paid $10.60, $5.60 and $4.80. Hasty Road, fourth choice at 5-1 and also an entry with stablemate Sea O'Erin, returned $6.80 and $5.60. Hasseyampa, a 25-1 shot was $12 to show.

Determine, who won only two stakes last year and $26,435, really has been collecting the folding green in 1954. His win today shot his 1954 total to $259,800, and his lifetime figure to $286,235.

The derby was his seventh victory in nine starts this year.

The derby was televised nationally (CBS) for the third straight year.

Bilko's, Luna's Career With Cards Comes to an End

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Big Steve Bilko's up-and-down career with the St. Louis Cardinals came to an end and a $100,000 rookie pitcher was shunted off to the minors yesterday as the Redbirds pulled their third surprise move of the young baseball season.

Bilko, the Cardinal regular first baseman last season, was sold to the Chicago Cubs and southpaw Memo Luna was sold to the Cardinals' Rochester farm club in the International League in separate deals.

Another Cardinal $100,000 rookie, Tom Alston, got a vote of confidence from the Bilko sale. It leaves him as the Cardinals' only first baseman.

The Cardinals' earlier surprises came when they bought pitcher Vic Raschi from the New York Yankees and traded veteran outfielder Enos Slaughter to the Yanks for four minor league players.

Bilko, in his first full season with the Redbirds last year, drove in 84 runs and batted .251. He hammered out 21 homers, three triples and 23 doubles but this year was hitting only .143 with two hits in 14 trips to the plate. Alston is currently batting .211.

Luna, 23, was acquired from San Diego last September. He is subject to the baseball draft unless the Cardinals buy his contract back before Oct. 19, a Cardinal spokesman explained. Luna's contract was sold to Rochester.

Stanky said he felt Luna was a "better pitcher than he has shown so far. I am sure his injured arm has handicapped him."

The Mexican hurler made only one start for the Cardinals this season and was knocked out of the box by Cincinnati after two-thirds of an inning on April 20. He reported to spring training with a sore pitching arm.

Valley AAU Track, Field Championships Will Be Run Saturday Night

KANSAS CITY, May 1 (AP)—The annual Tissouri Valley AAU outdoor track and field championships will be run off at Shawnee Mission high school stadium in Mission, Kan., Saturday night, May 29, AAU Secretary Marion H. Miller announced today.

The meet is open to all amateur athletes registered with the AAU and living in Kansas or the western half of Missouri. Place winners will qualify for the national meet to be held at St. Louis June 18-19.

Golf Stars Eye Ardmore Tournament

ARDMORE, Okla., May 1 (AP)—Golf's topflight tournament stars shift their operations to Oklahoma next week, hopeful of picking up some easy money in the third annual Ardmore Open tournament at Dornick Hills Country Club course.

The bulging bankroll of oil millionaire Waco Turner will entice all but a few of the select linksmen to this scenic southern Oklahoma city for the 72-hole medal play event Thursday through Sunday.

Under the generous sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. Turner the tournament has developed into one of the most popular and among the richest on the Professional Golfers Association's schedule.

It's easy to understand why it would be. The Turner bonus play provides $15 for every birdie, $25 for a chip-in, $500 for an eagle, $500 for each day's lowest score and $2,500 for a hole-in-one.

The tournament is listed as a $15,000 event but under the "play for pay the Turner way" it possibly will reach $50,000.

There is no telling what tricks the Turners have up their sleeves. Almost $27,000 was shelled out for the inaugural tournament in 1952 and last year's figure expanded to almost $47,000 with $6,900 of it going to Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, the tourney winner.

Stewart will be gunning for a repeat and he will be joined by Dave Douglas, Grossingers, N. Y., who cut a $5,400 swath with his winning score in 1952.

All of the topnotchers along the tournament trail will be in the 160-man field which may also include Byron Nelson, the former National Open and PGA champion.

Nelson makes few tournaments these days but he notified Turner that he would play unless some unforeseen business pressure developed at his Roanoke, Tex. ranch.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison will be making his farewell appearance as the host pro. Harrison, who came here just before the 1952 tournament, has resigned to accept a new job in St. Louis.

The true-putting Arkansas traveler is enjoying a streak of consistent money-making golf and must be considered as a prime favorite. However, he will have to beat such standout performers as Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum, plus a batch of sensational youngsters.

The 6,500-yard course has turned back par-wrecking efforts in the two previous tourneys. Douglas shot a one-under-par 279 over the par 36-34 layout, while Stewart won the prize with 281.

Harvey Raynor, PGA tournament chief, said an 18-hole qualifying round may be necessary for pros and amateurs because of a large entry list. He said the field would be limited to PGA specifications of 160 players for the first two rounds. The field then will be cut to 60 for the final 36 holes.

All-Star League Holds Reorganization Meeting

Friday night the Sedalia All-Star league held a re-organization meeting for next year. Jack Vaughan was named as president, Frank Deady, vice president, and Rosie Cummins, secretary-treasurer. Four teams were in the fold for next season as follows: Full Cry Magazine under Frank Deady, W. A. Smith Fords, captained by Kenny Pabst; Sam Highleyman Insurance with Forrest Crabtree as captain and Country Club Beer, directed by Kenny Tucker. This leaves two team spots to be filled before next fall. Any group with a fairly strong team seeking a league spot is urged to contact one of the above officers or the Bowling Lanes.

Only one rule was revised, the one with regard to league standings. It was decided to operate on a four-per match basis. That is a point for each game won in the three game match and a fourth point for the team with the highest three game total.

The 12-year-old little leaguers will hold final tryouts Tuesday, May 4, at 5 p.m. at the Little League Stadium.

Cards Edge Pirates 5-4 In 10 Innings

ST. LOUIS, May 1 (AP)—A bases-loaded fly to left field off the bat of Rip Repulski brought Wally Moon in from third with the winning run in the 10th inning today as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh's Pirates, 5-4.

The Cards had taken advantage of a Pirate miscue to tie the score at 4-4 in the eighth, and then used another boot by Pittsburgh to set up the winning score in the tenth.

It was Repulski, too, who hit a two-out grounded ball to shortstop Gair Allie, who booted it, allowing the tying run to score. His game-ending sacrifice fly came after the Cardinals loaded the bases with one out when first baseman Bob Skinner fumbled a grounder by Ray Jablonski.

The victim of the faulty fielding was George O'Donnell, rookie Pittsburgh righthander, who gave up 11 hits but did not walk a man in the overtime contest, the fifth played by St. Louis in 14 National League games this season.

The winner for the Cards, gaining his first major league triumph, was veteran lefthanded newcomer Royce Lint, who hurled three hitless innings and struck out five men.

The Pirates collected all their eight hits off Redbird starter Stu Miller, including Swinner's first major league homer and his subsequent double.

For the Cards Stan Musial doubled twice as the Cards whittled away at an early 4-1 Pittsburgh lead.

MONDAY night the Sedalia Industrial Softball Association will open the 1954 season with all the fanfare of big league baseball. The Association has 16 teams and two leagues, the National and the American, and it will be a big night at Housel Park.

There will be a flag raising, speeches, followed by two hot softball games. There will be plenty of action on the ball diamond and well worth Sedalia soprts minded baseball or softball fans to witness.

Complete cooperation is being displayed in the grand opening, there will be a presentation of a United States Flag to the Association by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2508, then an Air Force Honor Guard from the Sedalia Air Force Base will be in charge of the flag raising.

The first speech will be a brief one by Mayor Julian H. Bagby welcoming the opening, response by Woodrow Garrison, for the Association, remarks by Col. Chester C. Cox, commander of the 340th Bomb Wing at SAFB which, incidentally, has a team in the league. Rev. W. P. Arnold will give the invocation.

Opening game is between the Meadow Gold and Pittsburgh Corning teams. This will be followed by a game between the Knights of Columbus and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

SMITH-COTTON Tigers defeated the Missouri Military Academy 14-3 Saturday afternoon in a Central Missouri Conference Tilt. This ended the Tiger conference tilt due to the fact Columbia was the only team to play home and home with the Tigers. Jefferson City and M.M.A. being too poor to make the trip to Sedalia, but the Sedalians tripped to their town.

This week the Tigers go into the Subdistrict Tournament being played here on Wednesday and Thursday at the Liberty Park Diamond. Some excellent baseball playing should be seen in these games as Archie, Mo., Lebanon and Buffalo all brag strong aggregations. The winner of course will play the winner of the Springfield tournament in the Sectional tournament next week.

Sedalians who have an opportunity should take a little time off to go out to the park and see these high school teams in action. The first game will be played between the Tigers and Archie at 1:30. The second game is scheduled for a 3 o'clock starting.

The winners are to meet on Thursday for the Subdistrict Championship.

THE game at Mexico Saturday must have been extremely exciting. First the scorebook was left in Sedalia, the man in charge being over anxious to get to Mexico and get the game over. Then the score was kept on a sheet of paper by business manager-player Jimmy Swafford.

Swafford had every little detail of the game in order, keeping the record straight until Coach Pete Brown ordered him into the game to play. So excited did Swafford get in being put in he dropped pencil and paper and that ended that.

The team returned home Saturday night—without the record on the sheet of paper. Don't let it happen again Jimmy, we need that information for a good story.

IT has been said that "the way to Hades is paved with good intentions", which goes right along with the Elm Hills Country Club Golf Course. Sometime ago I wrote about Elm Hills about ready to be turned into a pasture, about ready to be plowed up and so on. A group of local men became panicky, called meetings, discussed the future of the course, and promised about everything possible to get somebody to stick out their neck.

George Thomasetti was encouraged to try and lease the course and operate it. A novice at operating such a project, but a golfer at heart, he took over. Incidentally he has invested considerable money in remodeling the club house, fixing the greens and still has to "sink" more into it to get the place in 100-percent condition.

I know he was promised that he would have at least 50 seasonal memberships. He does have quite a few, some that were not expected from persons who actually do not play a great deal of golf, but who came through to offer their assistance.

But those good "intenders" have failed to come through. One told me, "Oh, I'll go out and play and pay ground fees, but I don't think I'll take a membership". In fact that is the same person who was so panicky about the course being closed, even enlisted my aid in writing something, asking somebody to do something, but he has failed the boys. This is only one of several. I hope, for Thomasetti's sake, and the sake of community cooperation, they have a change of mind.

There seems to be so many who are public spirited over doing something to keep something going, but when it comes to digging down in the "jeans" for financial support — well that's different.

You should take time out in a couple of weeks and drive out and see what's going on. George still has some fellows who are pitching in and the course will come through successfully in spite of some.

Sedalia Industrial Softball League Opens Monday Night

The Sedalia Industrial Softball League will officially open at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Housel Park when appropriate ceremonies are to be conducted on the ball diamond. The first game is expected to get underway at 7 o'clock with the Meadow Gold meeting Pittsburgh Corning.

Mayor Julian H. Bagby will give a welcome talk with Woodrow Garrison responding for the Association.

The game will open with Mayor Bagby pitching the first ball with Former Mayor Elmer Sumner, "daddy of Housel Park" being on the receiving end.

Col. Chester C. Cox, commander of the 340th Bomb (M) Wing, Sedalia Air Force Base, will be at the plate with a bat hoping to get the first hit of the season off the pitch of Mayor Bagby.

Commander Martin of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2508 will present a United States flag to the Softball League with Fred Bennett, the Association president, receiving it. Mr. Bennett will in turn give the flag to the Honor Guard from the Sedalia Air Force Base which will be in charge of the flag raising. The Star Spangle Banner will be played. Invocation by Rev. Walter P. Arnold of the East Sedalia Baptist Church.

Before the first pitch, besides Mayor Bagby's talk, Col. Cox, Elmer Sumners, and others will be called upon.

The park is expected to be in tip-top condition for the opening in spite of rainfall over the week-end. The concession stand at the park will be in charge of the Boy Scouts. A public address system will be used at all games.

There will be no charge of admission for the games of the Industrial Softball Association, however a free will offering will be taken at each game to obtain funds to pay the expenses of lights and other necessities.

Elm Hills Golf Committees Are Appointed

A meeting was held at the Elm Hills Country Club Golf Course club house Friday night, at which time plans were discussed for a full season of golf activity. George Thomasetti, who has taken over the course, announced plans for a complete program of golf through the summer and fall months.

Thomasetti acted as chairman and announced the appointment of several committees. Bernard Stanfield was named chairman of the tournament committee with Bunny Taylor, Fred Wertz and John Craig as members.

Stanfield is coordinating the dates for the tournament so they will not conflict with the Sedalia Country Club. He will also set up various tournaments to be followed through the season. He also announced a plan for a tournament for Central Missouri golfers in both inter-city play and also another for player competition.

The fairway committee is being headed up by Lou Heisterberg, with Jack Wilt and Eddie Boysel as members. This committee will be in charge of supervising of the fairways and the greens and will cooperate with Thomasetti in making recommendations and seeing the fairways are in good condition.

The publicity committee is composed of D. Kelly Scruton and Milton Hinlein.

The club house at the course has been completely remodeled and the interior finished in knotty pine. A new locker room is being built where Thomasetti also hopes to put in showers for the players. A new machine which assists a golfer in correcting his swing has been installed and has been getting considerable use since the course was opened.

Various types of entertainment is being planned such as family picnics for the members after playing golf, and entertainment, dancing and general get togethers.

Tigers Take Easy 11 to 3 Baseball Victory Over MMA

The Smith-Cotton Tigers won over Missouri Military Academy at Mexico, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 14 to 3 in a lopside tilt.

Kenneth Buhlig pitched the route for the Tigers and gave up three hits for three runs in the opening stanza. In this inning he walked the first batter struckout the second, the next two got hits, and the next batter hit to Burton on third base who made an error. One run scored on the error and the next two made it home on a single.

The field was muddy and extremely heavy which made playing a difficult job.

The field worked into good condition, by the time the game was half over and from then on it was a rather good contest.

The Tigers todate have defeated Columbia, Jefferson, M.M.A., and lost to Columbia. By virtue of an agreement whereby all teams would play home and home games, except Smith-Cotton. The only home games for the Tigers with Columbia to which team they lost last week.

Percentage wise Smith-Cotton and Columbia are tied, but due to the fact there is a percentage standing and Columbia has an opportunity to play home and home with M.M.A. and Jefferson City, may give them the slight point edge for the conference title.

Marshall Race Season Opens Thursday Nite

Sportsman's Speedway, Marshall's new high-banked quarter-mile race track, is receiving finishing touches in preparation for its gala opening on Thursday night, May 6th. Modified stock cars, which have skyrocketed to peak popularity since the war, will be the attraction at the lid-lifter, as well as each Thursday night throughout the summer months.

A full field of fast cars and drivers will be on hand for the beginning of the competition for the trophy to be awarded the driver amassing the most points during the season.

An odds-on favorite to take top honors is Scotty Scovil, 1953 champion of the Central Missouri Racing Association, which will sanction the stock car events. Scovill, who also competes in the midget and sprint car classes, has assured the management that his revamped No. 20, with which he won the crown last year, will be on hand for the initial meet.

However, there will be plenty of competition for the title-holder. Among the strong contenders are John Bowman, Alma, runner-up in 1953, and Tom Michaels, Marshall, who will also be wheeling a faster version of his last year's car.

Other Marshall pilots expected are Lamar Haines and Harold Crumley, who will be driving the fast Jenkins-Garner special, from Slater. From the Central Missouri area, CMRA boasts such front-line throttle-stompers as "Torch" Aleshire, Moberly; Gene Johnson, Richmond; John Dwyer, Columbia; Jim Stafford, Richmond; and Doug Crank, Sweet Springs.

High points of the eight event program are the trophy dash, which starts the four fastest qualifiers in a scramble over a four-lap distance, and the featured final event, in which the twelve fastest cars are matched over a 25-lap stretch. Time trials are set for 7:00 P.M., with races starting at 8:00. The oval is located on Highway 240, one mile east of the Marshall city limits.

Ban Johnson Players Must Report Today To Play With Chiefs

The Sedalia Chiefs of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson team is being reorganized, but todate eligible players have not been reporting. A practice session has been called for 3 p.m. Sunday (today) at Liberty Park.

All boys interested in playing with the Chiefs are to report at the Liberty Park baseball grandstand. They will hold a meeting rain or shine in the grandstand, and if possible practice after the meeting.

Several boys eligible to play in Smith-Cotton High School likewise have failed to report. Although these boys cannot play with the Chiefs until after school is out, they must report for this meeting, otherwise other arrangements for players will be made.

Chances Against Jeffcoat In Outfield to Mound Switch

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The attempt of the Chicago Cubs' Hal Jeffcoat to make a successful switch from outfield to pitching mound recalls that many similar attempts have been made in the major leagues but few have succeeded.

The most widely heralded successful metamorphoses were the ones that turned third basemen Bucky Walters and Bob Lemon from mediocre batters into 20-game winners.

Jeffcoat's five-inning scoreless stint in his first mound assignment in spring training and his runless two-inning job in his first regular major league game as a pitcher prompted well wishers to predict he would be another Walters or Lemon.

But for every Walters or Lemon there have been at least four or five who withered, failed dismally or met with only lukewarm success in their shifts from a fielder's position to the pitcher's mound.

Mark Koening, Eddie Lake, Hank Leiber and Pepper Martin were among those who failed on the mound in an effort to prolong their big league careers. Lovell (Chubby) Dean, Clint Hartung, Harry Seibold, Tom Reis and Ralph Winegarner had only fair success.

Probably the most successful of all switches was made by Charles (Old Hoss) Radbourne who is best remembered by the real old timers as the man who almost single-handedly pitched the Providence Reds to a National League pennant by winning 60 games in 1884. In addition, Radbourne turned in 49 victories in 1883 and 31 in 1882. In all, the Hall of Famer won 308 games in 11 years in the majors.

Radbourne broke into the majors as an infielder-outfielder. He was a second baseman when he came up to Buffalo, then in the National League, in 1880. Later that season, he was moved to the outfield but a .143 batting average was instrumental in making him try his hand as a pitcher. The following year he alternated between the infield, outfield and the mound with the Providence club. His batting average rose somewhat to .221 but his pitching record was an impressive 25-12.

Walters, of course, broke in as an infielder with the Boston Red Sox in 1931 and after knocking around with indifferent success he switched to pitching in 1936 at the age of 27. His first year record as a pitcher with the Phillies was a poor 11-21 but three years later, as a member of the championship Cincinnati Reds, Walters won 27 games while losing 11. He wound up with 198 victories.

Lemon joined Cleveland as a third baseman in 1941. Inability to hit big league pitching caused him to switch to the mound in the summer of 1946. A year and a half later, he blossomed into a 20-game winner for the Indians. Lemon started this season with 140 victories accumulated in only seven and a half seasons.

Bob Smith joined the Boston Braves as a second baseman-shortstop in 1923 and batted .251 in 115 games. His average dropped to .228 in 106 games in 1924 and he decided to try his hand at pitching the following season. He stayed on in the majors for 13 more years and when he finally quit after the 1937 season, he left behind a satisfactory 107-139 won and lost record.

One of the first to make the successful switch to the mound was John Lush, the old Philadelphia favorite. Lush joined the Phils in 1904 as a hard-hitting outfielder-first baseman. Inability to solve curve ball pitching caused him to turn to the mound. He finished the season with a dismal 0-6 record but he stuck to it. Will power was rewarded in 1906 when he captured 18 victories.

Seibold came to the Athletics in 1915. As a shortstop he batted .115 and turned to pitching where he fared just as badly, winning four and losing 16 in 1917. Twelve years later he returned to the majors, this time with the Braves, and fared much better. He had a 12-17 record in 1929 and was 15-16 in 1930.

Dean's first two seasons with the Athletics in 1936-37 were as a first baseman. Then he became a pitcher and in seven seasons with Philadelphia and Cleveland, he won 30, and lost 47. Hartung came up to the Giants in 1947 heralded as another Babe Ruth. He never came close to living up to his advance billing as a hitter and soon was converted to a pitcher where he split 58 decisions in four seasons before drifting back to the minors.

Winegarner started as a third baseman with the Indians in 1930, turned to pitching in 1932 and hung on for awhile. His record of eight victories and six defeats over a five-season span, however, was not enough to keep him in the majors. Reis came up to Brooklyn as an infielder in 1931. He moved to the mound in 1935, was traded to the Braves the following year where he won six and lost five. He won only one more game during the next two years and was released.

Mark Koenig, a star shortstop with the Yankees from 1926 through 1929, drew a blank as a pitcher with the Detroit Tigers in 1930 and 1942. He pitched in several games but the net result was one defeat and no victories. He finally gave up the attempt and restricted his duties to infield positions only. The same fate was met by Lake, a Red Sox infielder, in 1944, Leiber, a Giant outfielder in 1942 and Martin, the colorful St. Louis Cardinal infielder-outfielder, in 1934 and 1936.

All Seymour Will Fish Again Monday

SEYMOUR, Tex., May 1 (AP)—A posh on the world's troubles!

Seymour is gonna close up shop Monday, and every danged one of its 3,779 citizens is ordered by the mayor to go fishing.

They'll go, too.

For 28 years when those first symptoms of spring fever got to crawling over a body, they've been locking up downtown for one whole day and taking off with a pole.

Nobody seems to know how or why it got started. It just did.

Seymour is on the northwest Texas plains where Lake Kemp is a 444,000-acre blue haven in a land of mesquite, ranches and wheat fields.

That's where Seymour is going Monday — right up to Seymour Gate on Lake Kemp, where the mayor told them to go.

Mayor W.R.Whitley's proclamation reads:

"Know all men by these presents: Whereas, since time immemorial man, woman, boy and girl have pursued the ancient and time honored custom of trying to induce a wily and stubborn fish to bite a hook—"

And whereas, the mayor said, he proclaimed May 3 as Fish Day.

"And I do further hereby proclaim that on said date each and every citizen shall lay aside his daily pursuits and gird and arm himself with a fishing pole, line, hook, and bait, and make his way by the most expeditious means of transportation to the said shores of Lake Kemp and there test his skill, strength, wit and patience against the said wily fish in the time-honored fashion and manner."

The Chamber of Commerce got out some handbills around town saying if you don't like to fish, "You will find the environment perfect for eating, sleeping, playing bridge, canasta, and other games, as well as plain and fancy gossiping."

They'll select a "Seymour Fish Day Queen" from 12 beauties from the local high school.

And a posh on care for one whole day!

Santee Runs Slowest Half This Season

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 1 (AP)—A popping angry Wes Santee, who said he had been upset by the official referee and starter, won his slowest half mile of the season on a wet, sloppy track here today.

The talkative Kansas senior, who is America's fastest miler, ran the 880 in 1:53.5 as Kansas defeated Kansas State 78 to 53 in a dual track meet.

The cold, windy weather aggravated by heavy, cloudy skies wasn't fit for record breaking performances but Santee said he was most disturbed over words with Starter E. A. Thomas.

Santee had been "called down" by Thomas for "coaching" a teammate in an earlier race, the 440-yard run.

Thomas instructed Santee to keep in his stall while he wasn't competing.

The great Jayhawk distance star contended there was no rule against his encouraging teammates during races.

Thomas, commissioner of the Kansas State High School Activities Association and a veteran track official, insisted he was following the rules, running the meet, and ordered Santee to refrain from coaching.

"I was badly upset even before the 880 started," Santee declared. "I wouldn't want my name connected with any record in which Thomas was the starter."

There were two false starts in the half mile, Kansas' Lloyd Koby jumped the gun the first time. On the second start, Santee, laughing and apparently in a good humor at that point, was guilty of jumping.

At that, Santee broke the tape at least 30 yards in front of Koby and he had plenty left.

Santee passed up the mile run and a possible leg in the mile relay to fly to his Ashland, Kan., home where a big celebration in his honor was planned tonight.

An unusually large crowd of about 3,500 turned out for the meet and at least half of them left the stands after Santee's run.

Kansas won 10 of the 15 events.

Hamm Softballers Will Play SAFB Here Monday Nite

The first game of the 1954 season for the Hamm's Independents softball team will be played at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Center Park. The game is to be with one of the Air Force Squadron teams of the Sedalia Air Force Base.

Leo Oswald, manager of Hamm's is well pleased with the way the team is shaping up and predicts it will be one of the leading softball aggregations in Central Missouri this summer.

The Air Base has several Squadron teams playing softball, and each is considered exceptionally strong. These teams besides playing in a base league are also hoping to schedule independent games off the base from time to time.

Oswald expressed concern over his pitching staff, not that the pitchers he has on the roster now are not good enough, but enough additional mound workers to keep burning out his present pitchers

Leslie From Assistant To Head Football Coach

MONTICELLO, Ark., May 1 (AP)—Willis (Convoy) Leslie was elevated from assistant to head football coach at Arkansas A&M College here today.

President Horace E. Thompson announced that Leslie, a former star fullback for A&M, had been appointed to succeed Jim Benton, ex-Los Angeles Ram end.

Benton resigned to devote full time to private business after leading the Boll Weevils to the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship last season.

Ten Commandments Of Hunting

(Nevada Game Bulletin)

1. Thou shalt not employ others to kill thy game for thee, or count game killed by others.
2. Thou shalt speak to the farm owner of land in a gentle grace and kindly entreat him to let thee hunt on his premises, lest he boot thy north end from his domain.
3. Point not thy gun toward any living thing that thou dost not wish to kill. Lo, there are fools and idiots wandering to and from on the earth, but he who fails to observe this rule is verily the King Imoecile.
4. Shoot not thy gun toward any cattle, swine, or farm live stock within one-fourth mile of thee. If thou shalt disobey this, the farmer will jab thy pants with his pitchfork till thou roarest for help and thereafter must eat thy meals standing.
5. Unload thy gun before thou enterest an automobile. Then may thy days be long and thy funeral postponed.
6. Take not thy gun by the muzzle to draw it toward thee. Verily, some foolish human may love thee, and why shouldst thou die?
7. Look not into the muzzle of thy gun whether it be loaded or empty. Verily, an empty gun shooteth out an inquiring eye, and the undertaker groweth rich thereby.
8. Thou shalt not carry they gun cocked. Verily thou art a mighty hunter, but the hides of thy friends will not turn shot.
9. Climb not fences with thy gun in thy hands. Put thy gun through first with the muzzle pointing away from thee and all living things. Better to miss a chance at one crow than to return to thy house with guilt in thy heart and thy friend's hind leg in a basket.
10. All these rules thou shalt obey and live past three score and ten. If thou failest, thou shalt sleep in thy nice new coffin or in the prison cell while the mourners go about the street.

Mrs. Lamm and Mrs. Rhoads Are Starting a Kindergarten

Two former teachers with the same idea in mind have joined forces and are going to start a kindergarten this fall. They are Mrs. Don Lamm Jr., and Mrs. M. E. Rhoads, the former Kay Herrick.

Mrs. Lamm, who received her B. A. degree in education from the University of Michigan, taught the first grade after she married and moved to Sedalia. She taught at Mark Twain School from 1951 to 1953, and then along came Art and she quit teaching and started a new profession, that of being a mother.

Kay Rhoads grew up in Sedalia, received her B. S. degree in education from the University of Missouri, and taught five years at Horace Mann School. She was a first grade teacher, too. Kay changed her profession, too, from teacher to wife and then mother of Rhonda, four, and Janee, three.

Both young women loved being mothers, but they still had something deep in their hearts when September came. They still wanted to teach. Joy Lamm thought she would like to start a day nursery; Kay Rhoads wanted to have a kindergarten.

Then one day the Lamm's found that the Hardin Gouge home was for sale, and Joy began to have day dreams. The place was perfect for a kindergarten—a beautiful old house, so spacious, on an acre of ground at 1620 South Beacon. There was a large attic that gave her ideas no end. There was the nursery already papered with cowboy paper that they could have for the kindergarten. There was the summer house, all screened in, in which many youngsters could play, and then there was all of the ground. It was ideal.

Joy and Kay had been talking. They had told each other what was in their minds and when Joy found she and Don were going to buy the Gouge house she talked to Kay about going in with her in the kindergarten business. Kay was thrilled over the idea. This way they could teach and have their children with them.

They talked so much that their husbands became interested, too. In fact, they offered to help in the getting ready. They would do things to fix the house up for the kindergarten and would make playground equipment, and they have already started.

Kay has charge of the nursery at the First Christian Church and Joy has helped in the nursery at her church. They feel they have plenty of experience to start little youngsters out right before they enter school. And when transportation is necessary Kay is going to take care of that.

They have outlined their schedule according to the school schedule and will have a morning class from 8 to 11:35 o'clock and an afternoon class from 1 to 3:35 o'clock with just the little difference in time so mothers wanting to pick up their children won't have the worry of trying to get the children at kindergarten and school at the same time.

Registration for the fall term of kindergarten may be made right now with either Mrs. M. E. Rhoads Jr., 1021 State Fair Blvd., or with Mrs. Don Lamm Jr., 1321 South Osage, because the Lamms will not move to their new home until July.

Red Cross Notes---

This Week Commemorates Man Who Organized the Red Cross

May 2-8 is International Red Cross Week. For the seventh consecutive year, May 8, the birth date of Henri Dunant, founder of the Red Cross movement, will be observed throughout the world as International Red Cross Day.

Dunant was a Swiss banker who on the battlefield of Solfero, Italy, saw so much pain and suffering as the result of neglect that he not only did what he could for the ill and wounded then and there, but he made up his mind that some sort of an organization must be formed so that in future wars the casualties might receive more attention.

Single-handed he could do nothing; he therefore devoted the rest of his life to the enlistment of volunteers to make his dream organization into a reality. Thus was the Red Cross born. To alleviate suffering, to succor the wounded and distressed, to give sanctuary to the homeless, this is Red Cross.

The Junior Red Cross members at Horace Mann School have completed their Fourth of July favors to be sent to the Army Hospital, Ft. Leonard Wood. Thirty units of tray covers, favors and nut cups comprise this consignment. The St. Patrick's Day units for the same hospital were by the members at Mark Twain School instead of Horace Mann as previously stated.

R. R. Conn, first aid instructor, has completed his standard and advanced classes, and at the closing session Tuesday evening, members of both groups were shown two films, "Checking for injuries" and "It's Fun to Swim." Ralph Lee also showed the same films to his first aid class Wednesday evening, and to the students at Hubbard High School Thursday morning.

Mrs. Herbert Seifert, chairman of home service, is planning a group meeting with Miss Dorothy Staley, general field representative, and Miss Eleanor Flynn, home service consultant. At this time the revised home service policy, together with the new regulations, will be discussed. The following welfare aides will be present: Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. Fred Hulse, Mrs. A. S. Wright, Miss Marian Keens, Mrs. W. H. Weller, Mrs. Fredonia Kingsbury, Mrs. Price Alexander, Mrs. D. L. Bridgewater, Mrs. Elmer Draffen, Mrs. Gladys Harris and Mrs. Blanche Black. Also attending will be Mrs. Charles J. Merrill, who has recently moved to Sedalia from Tampa, Fla., and whose husband is stationed at Sedalia Air Force Base. Mrs. Merrill is a certified welfare aide and has volunteered her services to the chapter.

Improvement

The kerosene lamp probably was the first lighting improvement in 6,000 years. It came into use shortly after the discovery of petroleum in 1859 and still is used widely in localities where neither electricity nor illuminating gas is available.

PROCLAMATION OF SPECIAL ELECTION

WHEREAS, on April 7, 1953, Arthur J. P. Schwarz was duly elected Councilman representing the Third Ward in the City of Sedalia, Missouri, and,

WHEREAS, the term of said office was for a period of two years ending the second Tuesday in April, 1955; and,

WHEREAS, on April 19, 1954, the said Arthur J. P. Schwarz did tender his resignation as Councilman, which said resignation was accepted by the Council of the City of Sedalia on said date.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Julian H. Bagby, Mayor of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, under authority of Section 77.430 Revised Statutes of Missouri 1949, do hereby declare that a vacancy exists in the office of Councilman for the Third Ward in the City of Sedalia, Missouri, for the term ending the second Tuesday of April, 1955, and Proclaim that a special election be held on Tuesday, the 11th day of May, 1954, for the purpose of electing a Councilman to hold office for the balance of the unexpired term of said office.

Done under my hand and the Seal of said City this 29th day of April, 1954.

JULIAN H. BAGBY,
Mayor of the City of Sedalia, Mo.
FRED HANDLEY,
City Clerk.

Boy Scout Band Being Organized For The Council

A Sedalia Boy Scout band is being organized by Emerald Holdeman, Scoutmaster of Troop 66, with Joe Wright, assistant scoutmaster. Bob Shulz, has been chosen as director of the band.

Starting of the organization was in February, with boys practicing twice a month at the First Christian Church. The practice nights have been held on the first and second Tuesday of each month.

Arrangements have been completed for the band to hold future practice sessions in the county court room of the Courthouse on the first and second Tuesdays of the month.

At the present time there are 17 boys in the band, and those in charge hope to increase this number, hoping for at least 30 musicians of Boy Scout age.

Boy Scouts in Sedalia who play instruments are requested to meet with the band at the Courthouse this Tuesday night. This band is not a separate troop, but is for all boys who are Boy Scouts, regardless of which troop to which they belong.

It has been pointed out Sedalia has an excellent opportunity to organize such a band, especially in the Lake of the Ozark Council. The band is not limited to Sedalia boys, but is open to any Scout in the district.

Sedalia Children Dispel the Outdoor Gloom of May Day With Color, Gayety

Fun Indoors Is the Secret of a Happy May Day Despite Cloudy Skies; Grade Schools, Kindergartens and Nurseries Have Parties, Programs and Basket-Making Sessions, Maintaining Age-Old Custom Honoring Spring's Arrival

(Staff photos)

MAY DAY PARTY IS FUN—Pupils of one of the first grade classes at Mark Twain School sample their treats and wait for the next song at the party they had Friday afternoon. Several of the mothers assisted, and the teacher, Mrs. Ardelle Jones, directed the fun. The two young ladies in front are Deborah Brazee and Jodelle Shoemaker. The others are, left to right: Karen Ruthrauff, Stevie Lee Shoemaker, Marilyn Abey, Jodie Hammond, Robert Gates and Greer Bass.

THIS IS SERIOUS BUSINESS—It was the first time many of the young people at the Melita Day Nursery had ever attempted to make a May basket, and it took a lot of concentration. Small fingers sometimes have difficulty with scissors, paste and paper. But everyone was game, especially when it was so much fun. On the left, Carol Hix looks over at one of her playmate's progress, while Ronnie Baldwin, right, solves a folding problem. Mrs. Lucy Rabourn is superintendent.

SPRING PROGRAM COMING UP — These dressed-up young men and women are practicing their Spring Program for May 10-11. They are pupils of Mrs. Swope's Private Kindergarten at the Central Business College. They are, left to right: Janice Walker and Eddie Bryan, in a costume period dance; Donald Christian and Paula Neal, in a ballerina dance; and Diane Jolly and Stephen Proctor, in a Western number. The classes are under the direction of Mrs. Rudolph Swope.

MAY BASKETS IN ABUNDANCE—Pupils of one of the first grades at Broadway School hold up their May baskets to show their clever designs and neat work. Some of them already contain flowers in preparation for the big day. This is a custom which dates back to Medieval and Tudor England and was brought to America by the Pilgrims. Many of these baskets were hung on some friends' doors in the evening of May Day. This first grade class is taught by Miss Minnie Murphy.

Pupils Display Good Design, Neat Work In May Baskets

May Day, an occasion with a long history behind it, came to Sedalia Saturday beneath a cloudy sky, but that didn't stop Sedalia's children from having a good time. It may have been gloomy outdoors but there was no gloom in the classroom and in the home.

Some of the celebrating, in fact, was done Friday afternoon in the middle of the downpour. Such was the case at the Mark Twain School, where the lower grades had May Day parties.

It is believed that May Day celebrations originated with the Romans. They were known to hold an elaborate festival in connection with the arrival of spring. It was called "Florilia" and dedicated to Flora, the Roman goddess of flowers.

This custom of celebrating the spring's arrival was carried to England by the Romans. There, May Day became one of the most important festivals of the year.

In Medieval and Tudor England, May Day customs were most interesting and beautiful. Everyone, servant and master alike, was up at the crack of dawn to "go a-Maying." Branches of trees and flowers were gathered and a May pole hewn from a tree. All were brought back to town in a big procession. The Maypole was then decorated with wreaths and ribbons made by the children.

To be chosen Queen of the May was the dream of every girl in the village. Chosen by the Lord of the Manor, she might be a squire's daughter or the most modest peasant girl.

The climax of the May Day celebration was the crowning of the queen. This was done when the sun was at its highest point in the sky, spreading its warmth and cheer over the greatest area. Merry making lasted the entire day with dancing around the Maypole and sport and games attended by the queen and her court.

May Day was brought to America by the early Pilgrim settlers. Foremost among the early customs was the "Hanging of May Baskets." This custom is still carried on in this country. At dusk, or in the early evening, a basket containing a few wild flowers, some candy or fruit is hung by a child on a friend's front door.

Some of the May Day activities in Sedalia are pictured here. At Mark Twain School, the children had parties complete with May baskets and little treat cups. Some of the mothers were there to help direct the songs and games.

At Melita Day Nursery the little people were kept busy making May baskets. For some of them this was their first acquaintance with the occasion and they concentrated hard on scissors, paste and colored paper.

At the Swope Private Kindergarten in the Central Business College, the children donned costumes to practice a Spring Program for its morning class on May 10 and its afternoon class on May 11.

Broadway School's first grades produced some pretty baskets and filled them with flowers. The color and gayety indoors dispelled any gloom from the dreary weather outside.

But if the rain seemed to put a damper on May Day spirit outdoors, it was only momentary. On May 1, Sedalia was bright green from the moisture, celebrating the new month on a grand scale.

Phillips Heads Horse Show Ticket Sale

Lloyd Phillips has accepted the chairmanship of the ticket sales committee for the American Legion Horse Show to be held at the coliseum, State Fair grounds, June 3 and 4.

Mr. Phillips announced Saturday that tickets would go on sale May 7. A percentage of the choice seats in the colesium will be reserved. The majority, however, will be general admission tickets.

A special serviceman's ticket will be offered this year at half price to men in uniform and their families.

The reserved seat tickets will be placed at the Chamber of Commerce and at the L and G Electric Company. General admission tickets can be obtained from any Legionnaire and can be exchanged at either place above for a reserve seat ticket with the payment of the additional price.

Ralph Baker, general chairman of the horse show, reports that entries for both shows continue to be made daily. Present response and interest in this year's show indicate that the entries will top last year's high record.

Fred Schell, of the Schellcrest Farms at Liberty, entered six of his top horses last week. Mr. and Mrs. Schell are well known in Sedalia, Mr. Schell having been manager of the State Fair horse show for the past several seasons. Among the entries from the Schellcrest Farms was the chestnut gelding, Schellcrest Commander, which won the ladies five-gaited class in last year's show.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. An overskirt of nylon tulle covered the skirt of satin. Her headdress of pleated imported Chantilly lace fashioned into a caplet, joined the fingertip illusion of imported English tulle. May Fellowship Day by Church Women May 12

May Fellowship Day will be observed Wednesday, May 12, beginning with a luncheon at 12:45 p. m. at the Broadway Presbyterian Church. A program will follow the luncheon.

May Fellowship Day is the youngest of three special days observed by the general department of the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States. The other two are the World Day of Prayer and the World Community Day.

The May Fellowship Day grew out of a desire for an event that would emphasize the fellowship among church women of the community who could get together at a luncheon or tea for interdenominational fellowship. The first observance on a national scale was in 1933. Since then a large number of United Church Women groups celebrate the day, with about 40 councils in Missouri joining in the observance.

Tickets for the May Fellowship Day have been sent to the missionary groups in the territory.

Your Wardrobe

by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

UNDERPINNINGS for your summer wardrobe are very important. Bouffant petticoats are of course a must for your dresses with full skirts. Various styles and fabrics are being shown. Nylon crepe and nylon net, as well as organdy are very good. To create a very pretty effect, wear two. They are so pretty and feminine you won't be able to resist them. Cotton plisse has been tremendously improved this season. It is much softer and has a silky finish. Pastels shown in gowns and pajamas such as pink, mint, blue and maize are exquisite. For your topless dresses with full skirts you'll want a combination strapless bra and waist nipper with supporters. They are extremely comfortable and will solve all your problems for the proper bra and girdle. Your cotton slips and petticoats have shadow panels, so your worries with sheer dresses can be eliminated. The secret of summer feminine daintiness is fresh lingerie — plisse needs no ironing — so make your summer lingerie problem easier with cotton.

If you are "redoing" the house completely . . . begin with a black ground Chinese paper, its design in green, raspberry, gray and yellow for the dining room and make it the dominant paper.

Choose a semi-plain gray paper for the living room, and an interesting brick design in gray . . . highlighted with red and yellow for the hall.

Pick up the top colors for a kitchen paper . . . a yellow ground with a design of red apples in white wicker frames.

The bedroom area, basically pink . . . with white and gray tints of the colors already used. A charming pink paper refreshingly decorated with gray and raspberry carnations for one; and a dainty leaf diamond pattern on white with gray flowers accented with red and green for the other.

A diminutive design of white and black on a gray ground is a good choice for the bath.

Miss Wheatley, V. M. White Marry Here

Sunday, April 18, at three o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Shirley Ann Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wheatley, 720 North Prospect, became the bride of Mr. Van Marshall White, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. White, Smithton, in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. B. DeVoll, 611 North Grand. The Rev. Armin F. Klemme performed the double ring ceremony before a floral setting of Easter lillies, ferns and lilacs, in the presence of the families and close friends.

The bride wore a ballerina length dress of white taffeta with a nylon net overskirt. The bodice was made entirely of white imported Chantilly lace. Her small white hat held a veil of illusion trimmed in orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls that belonged to her grandmother. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Margaret Stration was matron of honor and wore a ballerina dress of pink taffeta with a matching nylon net overskirt, fashioned after that of the bride. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Stanley York served Mr. White as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. Bouquets of lilacs were used throughout. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Harold Maltby and Mrs. Margaret Stration.

The bride is a junior at Smith-Cotton High School and will reside at the home of her parents while her husband completes his army tour of duty.

The groom is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, class of 1953, and recently completed his basic training at Ft. Riley, Kan. He left April 29 for Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Japan's Young Men Have Lost Interest In Military Service

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's young men apparently have lost interest in military service.

Last month the National Safety Force called for volunteers, expecting to be able to pick 28,000 from at least 110,000 candidates. But only 8,123 have signed, the newspaper Asahi said today.

Last year 30,000 privates were picked from 100,000 volunteers and in 1952 more than 56,000 sought 8,000 vacancies.

The paper didn't speculate on the reason for the dis-interest.

The safety force has about 110,000 and plans to build up to 180,000 in the next two years.

Truman Will Speak In Cleveland June 8

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman is scheduled to speak here June 8 at a conference of the Cleveland Labor Committee for Human Rights, an organization jointly sponsored by the AFL and CIO.

Singapore Will Lift Quota Restrictions On Rubber Shipments

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore's British colonial government announced today that quota restrictions on the export of rubber to Soviet Russia and European satellites will be lifted May 3.

But a government statement said the relaxation will not apply to Communist China and North Korea. These remain subject to the embargo imposed in accordance with the United Nations resolution of May 1951 banning the export of strategic materials to aggressors in Korea.

The statement said parallel action is being taken by the British government.

Taconite May Be Bowing Out With a Boom

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A once ugly duckling is taking the first bows of this tardily opening Great Lakes iron ore shipping season—and may be taking the last ones years hence.

The first cargo pushing toward the Eastern steel mills today is a load of taconite—once despised poor relation of the rich Mesabi iron range.

But you can make steel from taconite—even if it costs more to extract its iron. And this year the iron and steel industry's closest attention—measured by new investment dollars—may be paid to taconite, although its share in steel making may be small for some time.

The chance for another top year for the traditional iron ore cargoes on the lake is fairly slim right now. Steel companies with offices here say that some marginal iron mines in the Mesabi range in northern Minnesota may not open at all this spring.

And over the horizon of tomorrow are pointing the prows of iron-ore-laden craft from Labrador and from Venezuela to challenge the long reign of the Mesabi.

Taconite is a hard red rock with iron in it. But the iron has been so hard to pry loose that its mother rock had little appeal to the iron and steel masters so long as the Mesabi range could be tapped easily for its huge store of rich, freely handling iron ore.

From the Mesabi has come most of the nation's iron for generations. And there's lots more there to be mined and shipped down the lakes to the steel mills that flourish near the coal fields. Steel making requires both iron and coal and must be brought together cheaply.

But two world wars with their huge demands for iron and steel have shown the nation that even the Mesabi iron range isn't inexhaustible. And the iron industry has looked two ways: to Venezuela, Liberia and Labrador, where it found new iron deposits; and to Minnesota's plentiful but stubborn taconite.

The industry has finally developed a process for crushing the hard rock and extracting the iron ore which it says is economical. Steel companies, with an eye on the day when taconite could be their chief sources, particularly in wartime, are investing millions in developing the process and building the plants needed. The first 18,000-ton shipment of taconite is now on its way to the iron foundries. Taconite is shipped in the form of small pellets of very high-grade ore, extracted in the Minnesota concentration plants from the low-grade rock ore.

The Great Lakes ore fleet carried a record 93 million tons of Mesabi ore last year. This year a total of 73 million tons is estimated. Operating well below capacity, steel mills' appetite for iron has been pickish of late. And stocks of iron ore, brought down last fall before ice closed the lakes, are still piled up—some 15 per cent higher than a year ago, and represent a five-month supply.

The big steel companies only now are sending out their first ore-laden ships, about a month later than last year, although the lakes have been freed of ice.

Some iron miners look with suspicion on the proposal to open the Great Lakes to ocean traffic know that big deposits of Labrador through the St. Lawrence. They knowthatbi g deposits of Labrador iron are about to be tapped, and that a railroad to bring them to the north bank of the St. Lawrence will soon be completed. Some fear the competition of that Labrador ore with Mesabi ore at the Lake Erie ports near the steel mills.

But advocates of the St. Lawrence project point out that the water distance would be about the same for either ore cargo; and that the Labrador ore would first have to travel by rail from the mine to the boat, giving the Minnesota ore a cost advantage.

And then there's taconite. It wouldn't be the first time a once rejected candidate won a stellar role.

Says Parking Lots Lay Waste Landmarks

ST. LOUIS (AP) Hardinge Scholle, consultant for the National Trust for Historic Preservation, says too many American landmarks are being torn down to make room for parking lots.

Scholle, of Washington, told the annual meeting of the Missouri Historical Society last night that because many historic buildings are located in the downtown areas of cities, the increasing value of their sites is resulting in their destruction to make room for parking lots or other businesses.

He urged preservation of the buildings through functional uses such as libraries, recreation centers or restaurants.

"Millions of persons are traveling all over the country, hungry for sightseeing," he said, "and they are coming more and more aware of these old buildings."

Janet Leigh As Smart as She Is Pretty, Gets MGM Release

By BOB THOMAS

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Janet Leigh is just as smart as she is pretty, as you can judge from the way she is handling her career.

The blonde beauty was in this Mojave Desert resort to help Martin and Lewis launch their new film, "Living It Up." I asked her at the Apple Valley Inn for an explanation of why she is leaving MGM, where she earns $2,000 weekly.

"Look," she reasoned, "I'm grateful to the studio for what it has done for me. I want that to be clear. They gave me my start and have every right in the world to cash in on what they have built up.

"But I feel I have served my apprenticeship. I would be happy to stay there and work, if they had pictures for me to do. But they don't. In the past year I have been trying to get my release. Most of the films I have made have been loanouts.

"I finally had talks with Dore Schary and Benny Thau (MGM execs). I asked them if they had anything for me in the coming year, which is how long my contract will last. They admitted they didn't. They said they understood my side and talked to Nick Schenck (MGM top boss). He didn't want to let me go. But when he understood that I would continue doing loanouts, he said okay."

So after she finishes "Rogue Cop" with Robert Taylor and George Raft, she'll be free from her MGM ties for the first time in eight years. That doesn't mean she'll be adrift in the movie seas. She has already lined up some comfortable security.

"It made me very happy that every studio in town offered me a deal when it got around that I would be free," she said. "I decided I would line up some ties that would give me something to hold onto. I didn't feel that I had progressed far enough to go it alone. I'm no Jane Wyman or Joan Crawford.

"So I signed for one picture every five years with Columbia. I also lined up four pictures with Universal - International. Because they make more pictures than any other studio, they wanted to make the deal for a picture every nine months. That was all right with me.

"But with each deal, I made sure what my first picture would be. That was important. If they started me out with a big picture, it stood to reason they would take good care of me. For instance, my first at Columbia will be 'My Sister Eileen' with Judy Holliday. Obviously, they aren't going to sluff me off after a picture like that."

Mrs. Prueter Heads Lutheran Women's Missionary League

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Arthur H. Prueter of Nashville, Tenn., was elected president of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League yesterday at the close of a two-day conference.

About 500 women from the four-state western district of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod attended the meeting.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Richard C. Jahn of Little Rock, Ark., first vice president; Mrs. Raymond E. Hodges of Webster Groves, Mo., recording secretary, and Mrs. Harry J. Kleindienst of Lexington, Mo., treasurer.

The delegates voted to allocate $30,000 to assist various mission chapels during the next two years.

Two Youths Rescue Sleeping Man From Path of Freight Train

OMAHA (AP) — When James P. Platek, Battle Creek, Mich., got sleepy driving his car near here he pulled off the road and parked.

Trouble was he parked on a railroad track.

Just as a Union Pacific freight train roared down the track, two unidentified Fremont, Neb., youths yanked him from the car, which the train demolished.

In County Court here, Platek was fined $25 for illegal parking.

Red Says Party Must Support Constitution

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marcus A. Murphy, one of five Communists on trial here, has testified the Communist party is pledged to support the constitution of the United States.

Murphy, who described the constitution as a "sacred document," made the statement before a Federal Court jury yesterday in a denial of testimony by government witnessts. The trial was recessed until Monday.

The Charleston, Mo., Negro denied testimony by government witnesses that he told a party meeting in 1947 that capitalism could not destroy the Communist party in America because "it would have to destroy Russia first."

"I spoke at that meeting but I did not say that," Murphy said. Murphy said he told the meeting attempts were being made to "illegalize the Communist party, but the party, in spite of all this, will not be destroyed because it is the life-blood of the working class x x x."

Murphy, in denying that teaching the forcible overthrow of the government was a Communist party aim, said the party's aims were to "promote the interests of the working class in the United States, preserve and extend American democracy and fight unemployment."

Other defendants, all charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, are William Sentner, Robert Manewitz, James F. Forest and his wife, Dorothy Rose.

MacArthur Says We Must Guard Against Red 'Adventurers'

MANCHESTER, N. H. — Gen. Douglas MacArthur said last night citizens must guard against "adventurers in our midst who travel along" with persons trying to tear down American free institutions.

"Possibly it is unnecessary for me to point out to you," he said, "that the struggle to preserve undefiled the edifice of national strength and unity which Daniel Wooster and his contemporaries did so much to fabricate still requires in these troublesome times the utmost of our devotion."

"There have been, are now, and probably will continue to be," he said, "those abroad in the land, blind equally to the lessons history has taught and the facts of contemporary life, who, skeptical of our form of civilization and government, seek to change their underlying fundamentals."

MacArthur was made an honorary citizen of the state of New Hampshire at a dinner attended by 3,000.

Sterling Hayden Defends Actors With Temperament

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sterling Hayden today came to the defense of a much-maligned breed in Hollywood—temperamental actors.

Having worked at every studio in town, he has seen his share of temperament. Some of it he likes, some he doesn't.

When we met for lunch, he said he had meant to look up "temperamental" in the dictionary. I have done so, and the definition is: "the peculiar mental and physical character of an individual." That would support Hayden's theory.

"The word 'temperamental' has acquired a bad connotation in Hollywood," he remarked. "I don't think it is necessarily bad. I always remember a foreword Clifton Fadiman wrote for 'Moby Dick.' He said that Herman Melville had been considered something of an eccentric in his lifetime. He added that perhaps we should not apply normal standards of behavior to someone with the genius to write a 'Moby Dick.'

"And I think that applies to all creative people. Take Marlon Brando. I don't care if he has a raccoon for a pet or is going through a phase. To me he's a great actor. He can take a part and act the heck out of it. For my dough, he can be as eccentric as he wants.

"Bette Davis is another. She says exactly what she feels. If she gets mad enough, she'll blow her cork. But she's a wonderful gal, and she has great integrity as an actress.

"The first time I heard Mario Lanza sing, I said, 'This guy has got it.' I didn't care how he acted in his private life; that great voice made up for it.

"Then there's Sinatra. He's supposed to be temperamental, but I'm on his side. He has a mind like a steel trap. He has some terrific speeches in this picture—wild stuff that would throw me. He doesn't always get all the words right, but gets the meaning across. And there's a certain sincerity about the guy that comes through.

Records Can Indicate Breeding Performance, Says Livestock Man

Individual records of birth and weaning weights, rate and economy of gain, and conformation of bulls indicate the performance that can be expected of them as breeding animals.

James E. Comfort, University of Missouri livestock specialist, told farmers attending the Feeders Day program in Columbia that most of these characteristics are highly influenced by inheritonce. Hence, knowledge of them is important to both purebred and commercial breeders in selecting herd sires.

In pointing up the differences in bulls of the same sire, Comfort cited feeding tests in which nine yearling bulls from the same sire were fed individually for 140 days.

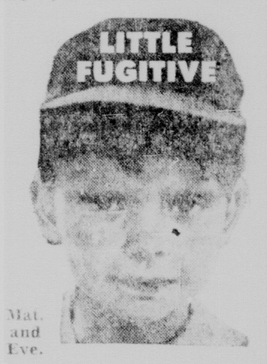

At the end of the experiment, conformation scores of the nine bulls ranged from a low of 63 to a high of 80. Feed consumption per 100 pounds gain varied nearly 200 pounds between the animals. And rate of gain varied one pound, with some bulls gaining 2½ pounds daily compared to 1½ pounds daily for others.

Comfort added that rate of gain is highly inherited and is a good indication of what can be expected in an animal's offspring.

The cross often was used as a symbol on European coins and medals before the Christian area.

FHA Scandals Raise Issue Of Federal Aid to Business

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—There is a far bigger issue to the current investigations of Federal Housing Administration irregularities than shows on the surface. It is how much of an "incentive" private business needs to do a public service in the national interest?

A lot of words have been spouted to the effect that government should get out of all business-type activities and leave everything to private enterprise.

But the experience of government over the last 20 years has shown that unless private enterprise is guaranteed a handsome profit on public service it will not take the job.

This is true not only with regard to the various government housing programs, but to national defense and even farming.

It applies to the accelerated tax amortization plan in effect since the beginning of World War II. They were considered necessary to provide business with an incentive to tackle defense production.

It applies to the huge depreciation allowances given oil and gas producers in one of the largest loopholes in existing tax law.

It applies to the huge subsidies given American ship builders and shipping line operators. These incentives are considered necessary to maintain an American merchant marine in peacetime so that it will be available for military transport in time of war. Proposed legislation now before Congress would even increase these incentives.

It applies also to the newly proposed incentives to business in pending tax reform legislation. These incentives include a reduction of taxes on dividends, a change in depreciation allowance schedules for tax purposes, and tax reductions on income from foreign investments made in support of U.S. foreign policy to aid the economic development of friendly, non-Communist countries.

Biggest of all the incentives to private enterprise is of course the farm price support program. Price supports were originally introduced during the depression to assure farmers of a minimum income. The incentives were increased in wartime to guarantee the farmers high incomes for producing bumper crops for the war effort.

It is now virtually impossible to reduce these support-price levels, even though they provide an incentive to produce farm surpluses in excess of the demand, at a cost of billions of dollars to the taxpayers and at an actual waste.

The question on all these incentives is, how big do they have to be to make the so-called private enterprise system function?

The obvious answer is that no businessman or anybody else is going to risk money on an enterprise if he thinks he'll lose his shirt at it. That is just plain horse sense.

But does there have to be an opportunity for unlimited profits by unscrupulous operators and racketeers?

The answer to the war profiteers of World War I was the renegotiation act of World War II. It enabled the government to recapture excessive profits on defense contracts. It would seem to be no more than simple justice to provide a renegotiation clause for housing contractors receiving the benefits of government insured mortgages.

An examination of congressional hearings on the housing legislation now under investigation reveals that Congress knowingly made allowances for overgenerous profits to the building industry. This legislation was renewed by Congress in 10 different laws.

Listen to what ex-Congressman Albert M. Cole (R., Kan.) said about this program in 1949: "I agree that a political football has been made out of these housing bills. But Titles I, II and VI of the FHA are not controversial. They are practically agreed on by all members of the House.

This is the same Mr. Cole who now, as Housing and Home Finance Administrator, kicked off this great housing scandal and is asking Congress for $250,000 to investigate the irregularities developed under these extra-incentive programs.

Service To Humanity

In this era of deeper and deeper penetration into the awesome secrets of total annihilation, it is reassuring to be reminded that there are other great forces in the world beside the terrible force of an H-bomb.

One such reminder is the observation on May 8 of International Red Cross Day.

When Henri Dunant — the Swiss visionary whose birth date is being celebrated — founded the Red Cross movement in 1863, he created a power stronger even than an atomic explosion. He awoke the conscience of the world and gave reality and practical expression to the great principles of mercy and helpfulness taught by the philosophers and religious leaders of the ages.

The Red Cross is a force for good which has demonstrated over and over again in the 91 years of its existence that compassion for the suffering and unfortunate is a universal emotion—that there are men and women of good will in all parts of the world.

Today there are 71 internationally recognized national Red Cross societies and almost 5 per cent of the world's population is affiliated with the Red Cross movement. The work of these societies and their members—in the relief of suffering, the prevention of disease, the assuagement of hunger — is a hopeful note in this troubled time. It binds together in common cause men of different race, creed and political opinion.

Let us take advantage of International Red Cross Day, then, to rededicate ourselves to the service of humanity under the Red Cross emblem if only because through its constructive power for good we may help avert the terrible catastrophe of world destruction foreshadowed by the mushroom cloud over Eniwetok.

"Taps" was composed during the Civil War by Gen. Daniel Butterfield of the Union Army.

Each Defecting Red Agent Opens A Hole In The Iron Curtain

By Bruce Biossat

Washington authorities are beginning to piece together evidence which suggests strongly that all is not well with the Soviet secret police, the so-called MVD.

The Petrove case in Australia is, of course, the most striking recent example. But it is not the only one.

In Bonn, Germany, just a few days ago three Soviet agents sent into Western Germany on a murder mission gave themselves up to U.S. officials. They disclosed full details of the plot to kill a member of an anti-Communist Russian group in Frankfurt. They also spelled out the pattern of MVD operations.

Earlier this year Yuri Rastvorov, a top Soviet spy in Japan, defected. And according to James Reston of the New York Times, there are other still unpublicized cases which support the idea that some sort of revolt is in progress within the secret police.

One thing that strikes American officials is the fact that men like Petrov and Rastvorov are quite high in the Soviet scale of authority. They cannot be dismissed as a small catch.

What is it all about?

The defectors naturally have been thoroughly interrogated as to their motives, but the truth does not necessarily emerge easily from such questioning. Even the Russians are individuals, and each may present a whole complex of reasons. So some guessing is required.

Evidently American authorities are convinced that Lavrenti Beria's execution has a lot to do with the current distress. Beria, who was head of MVD and then deputy premier after Stalin's death, had many key supporters placed throughout the police organization. Most of these are thought to live in fear of their lives.

Beria's execution was followed by removal of a top Beria backer in Soviet Georgia. Presumably many similar actions have been taken. Premier Malenkov, after the fashion of totalitarian leaders, is moving systematically to eliminate the supporters of an opposing faction.

If these expert surmises are correct, then we may well expect the defections to continue as opportunities arise for MVD and other officials to break away.

From all this we cannot take hope that any really disruptive revolt is about to take shape within the Soviet Union.

What we can be grateful for is the absolutely priceless information these defecting spies and secret police bring with them about the nature of Soviet espionage operations.

The shouts and screams from Moscow are the proof that the hurt goes deep. The West is learning a great deal these days about the inner workings of the Communist conspiracy. You never know where your luck is going to come from.

Chance To See World

Evidently, so long as there is a platoon of American foot soldiers on foreign soil, the cry will be heard: "Bring the boys home."

If you hear any politicians raising it in the campaign months ahead, you can be pretty sure their political arsenals are on the empty side.

We have very solid, selfish, American reasons for keeping substantial numbers of troops both in Europe and Asia today. By one means or another Congress, representing the people, has endorsed the decisions to maintain them there.

The fact that they are there in peacetime is perhaps one strong assurance that far more of "our boys" may not have to go abroad and engage in actual fighting.

But there's another side to it. Does anybody ever ask the "boys" how they feel? Since we have a peacetime draft law that compels our young men to serve two years, isn't it possible a good many would just as soon see something of Europe—even of dismal Korea—and expand their horizons a little?

With all due respect to our domestic military establishments, some of them are pretty dull places. A fellow couldn't be blamed if he'd rather do a tour of duty in Frankfurt, Germany, than in Flin Flon, Idaho. No offense to our homeland intended, but when will most of these boys get a better chance to see the world—and get paid for it?

Standardized At Last

WASHINGTON—Department of Defense has finally standardized "The Star Spangled Banner."

It also designated "Hail to the Chief" as the official salue to the President of the United States.

The Navy arrangement of "Oh, Say Can You See"—will be the official one for all service organizations. Up to this time there have been so many arrangements of the national anthem that few bands trying to play in unison could come out together at the end.

How the old Scotch ballad "Hail to the Chief" came to be adopted as the American President's musical salute has always been something of a mystery. But some recent research by the Marine Corps dug up the fact that President John Tyler's second wife, Julia Gardiner, of New York, was responsible.

She had traveled abroad often and noticed all the flourishes and drum rolls given to foreign dignitaries. After she married President Tyler in 1844, she decided that her husband should be given similar treatment.

So she arranged to have the Marine Band play "Hail to the Chief" at White House functions, just before "The Star-Spangled Banner" was played. The custom stuck, and now it's official.

Hoosier Corn Sampled

House Republican Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana gave the American Society of Newspaper Editors a good sample of Hoosier corn in defending the Eisenhower record, and they loved him for it.

"I'm like the fellow who said he couldn't make a speed and then proved it," began Halleck. Other samples:

"We've just caught a five-pound bass and if you don't believe it I'll show you the hook.... The most important thing about selecting a necktie is the price.... I used to make an honest living—practicing law."

Local Boy Scouts to Collect Equipment for South Koreans

Boy Scouts of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, with headquarters at Jefferson City, have accepted an invitation from the American-Korean Foundation to cooperate with it by undertaking a special project known as "Operation Korea" within the next 30 days.

Dr. Lawrence S. Geiger, president of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, said that its members will develop a "Boy Scout Friendship Package" for the Boy Scouts of South Korea, in response to a request received from Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

Usable, clean Boy Scout and Club Scout Uniforms, specified camping equipment and first aid kits will be packed in wooden cases and loaded on one of the "Help Korea Trains" that will soon move across the country. These trains will also receive other items contributed by American business, industry and national organizations for the people of South Korea.

In Sedalia, according to Dr. Lawrence S. Geiger, arrangements have been made to collect all uniform parts and equipment. All Sedalians are urged to check and see if they have any of the materials needed.

President Eisenhower attaches great importance and significance to the campaign, Dr. Schuck said. He wrote the nation's local scout executives that President Eisenhower endorsed the program in a letter to Dr. Howard Rusk, president of the American-Korean Foundation, saying:

"The timing of the American-Korean Foundation's campaign is particularly fortunate, for with the opening of the talks in Geneva, it is urgent that we do everything possible to let our brave Korean allies know how deeply we feel toward them and that in a democracy we stand by those who fight with us to resist Communist aggression. I attach the greatest importance to the work of the American-Korean Foundation, for it is serving our national interest."

Expressing confidence that each scout council "will do an effective and meaningful job," Dr. Schuck said that by each council developing one crate it "becomes a noteworthy contribution to the Boy Scouts of South Korea, who are in such great need."

Each "standard" Boy Scout Friendship Package, carefully developed is to include the following: 4 2-boy light weight tents with collapsible poles and tent pegs; 1 dining fly without poles (frail tent 10'x10'); 1 trench shovel; 1 single bit axe (hand or long handled); 1 patrol first aid kit; 1 trail chef cook kit with 4 additional cups and plates; 1 chef kit consisting of: 1 basting spoon, 1 ladle, pot fork, spatula, slicer fruit knife, 2 potato peelers; 8 Boy Scout uniforms—including: cap or hat, shirt (V-neck or regular) neckerchief slide, trousers or shorts, belt, socks or stockings, pack or haversack; 8 Boy Scout knives; 8 canteens; 8 Cub Scout uniforms, including: cap, shirt, neckerchief, trousers, belt and socks.

THE LITTLE GIRL who lived in a small community was a member of the church in the community, known as the "Hard-shell" Baptist. One day someone asked what church she belonged to and she told them right off—she was a "Heart-shelled Baptist."—HL.

THERE ARE LOTS of problems to this horseback riding that seems to be so popular now, and two women who do not belong to any saddle club decided they would have a little saddle club of their own just for the afternoon.

One of the women was visiting in Sedalia from Kansas City and they went out to the farm owned by the other one to do a little riding. One of the women really had a problem because she could not get on her horse. She tried and she tried, but she just couldn't make it. She had gone out to the farm to ride, though, and she was going to ride. If she couldn't get on the horse from the ground there were other ways. She led the horse over to a small building, climbed up on the building and down onto the saddle. We didn't realize until later that the man who told the story didn't finish it. Now we are wondering how she ever got off. —HL.

A GIRL NAMED Barbara from near Sedalia is going to college and is sharing an apartment with three other girls. The odd thing about it is that two of the other girls are named Barbara, too, and the other one is named Janice.

Well, Janice was the only one who was certain they meant her when her name was called and there were complications no end. There had to be something worked out to distinguish one Barbara from another. They finally came up with this solution: One girl is called Barbara, one Bobbie and the other Babs, and after they got used to it enough so they realized which one had which name they got along fine.—HL.

One in 12 Missouri Employees Works For Government

One out of every twelve persons working in Missouri is employed by government, Missouri Public Expenditure Survey reported today. The research group compared the state's estimated working force of 1,735,000 with the 150,794 persons reported on government payrolls in Missouri by the U. S. Census Bureau.

Analysis of the census report shows that the largest government employer in the state is Uncle Sam with 47,279 employes, the survey said. The report showed school districts were second with 40,929, cities were third with 30,466, state government was fourth with 22,147. Counties, townships and special districts accounted for the remaining 9,973, it added.

The survey said the payroll of the 103,515 state and local government employees was nearly $23 million per month divided as follows: school districts, $10.3 million; cities, $6.5 million; state government, $4.6 million and counties, townships and special districts $1.5 million. Average salary per month of persons employed by major divisions of government were broken down by the survey as follows: school districts, $266; cities, $250; and state government, $244. The census report did not give the federal payroll figures in Missouri.

The survey pointed out that total government employment for the nation as a whole decreased from 7,066,000 to 7,012,000 last year. It said that a drop of 208,000—from 2,568,000 to 2,360,000—in federal employment was largely offset by an increase of 155,00 in state and local government which rose from 4,498,000 to 4,851,000.

A House Big Enough

THE STORY: Although relations between Lenny Dahlstrom, bride of Tom Dahlstrom, and her mother-in-law who lives with the young married couple are respectful, Lenny senses that she has not won the approval of Tom's mother. Instead, Lenny feels that her mother-in-law regrets Tom's marriage and that days of misery are in store for her.

• • •

IX

THROUGH the window Elaine could see the broad, rolling field near the forest where Tom's plow was turning over neat ribbons of moist, black soil.

"Please let me take the lunch to the menfolks," she pleaded. Then she added shyly, "Perhaps there's enough coffee in the thermos for me, too."

Quickly, Mrs. Dahlstrom cut off two more slices of the fragrant bread, scraped butter across, dabbed on a spoonful of jam, and clapped them together.

She put the sandwich with the others in the white napkin and added another cup before she handed the basket to Elaine and said, "I suppose you don't approve of between-meal snacks."

For a brief moment Elaine had the sensation, incomprehensible though it was, that Mrs. Dahlstrom wanted her approval. Pushing aside the thought, she nevertheless agreed with complete honesty, "We made a lot of experiments at school that proved that laboring men—and women, too—need that extra energy. They can do better work, too, after they've had a coffee break."

"Well," Mrs. Dahlstrom rejoined, "I hope Tom will take one. He was in such a hurry to get out in the field this morning he hardly touched his breakfast."

Elaine smiled and tried to sound cheerful and confident, "Oh, I'll make him eat something."

The icy look came back to Mrs. Dahlstrom's eyes and she spoke through tight lips, "A Dahlstrom doesn't take to nagging."

Trying to run away from this new hurt, Elaine flung out the door and hurried down the path toward the lane.

The few moments with Tom and the brisk hike back through the stubbly fields made her feel better. It was almost peculiar how dense Tom was as far as his mother was concerned. He didn't seem to think anything was amiss. He was just happy, thoroughly happy, to be home.

Tom would be happy here even without her, she decided. If things came to a showdown between his mother and her, which would he choose? His mother and the farm? Or her? Well, maybe the decision would never have to be made. It was up to her. If only she had the poise and assurance of Astrid Nelson. Then she would have never broken that old blue plate. And she would never have gone cold and stupid with apprehension if an old girl friend of Tom's had come to call.

• • •

DREADING the moment when she must step into the kitchen again, Elaine dallied at the watertank and absently rubbed the forelock of the old brown horse indolently mouthing the clear, cool water. He tolerated the attention for a few seconds, then he tossed his head out of reach, throwing a spray of water across Elaine's sweater. Flattening his ears he, too, seemed to stare with disapproval at her.

Taking a lump of sugar from the basket, she held it out to him. He lipped it from her hand. Then he tossed his head again, disdainfully, and backed out of reach. Elaine sighed. Even the old horse wasn't going to accept her without a bit of discord first.

She started up the hill.

In spite of her awkward thumb, Mrs. Dahlstrom was rolling out a mound of dough on a large, square breadboard.

Elaine set the basket on the sink drainboard and listened to the flutter of her heart for a second before she said, "Let me do that for you."

"Do you know how to make doughnuts?" Mrs. Dahlstrom asked skeptically. Elaine sensed a challenge in the woman's voice, too. The rolling pin began to move less vigorously.

Here was Elaine's chance to show she wasn't as helpless as she appeared! Slipping off her sweater, Elaine replied, "I was a home economics major."

• • •

SHE was certain, when Mrs. Dahlstrom surrendered the rolling pin to her, it wasn't because she really wanted help. Mrs. Dahlstrom would treat an almost deadly wound as though it were a mere scratch. The bruise on her thumb was worth no notice at all. It was only that the woman wanted to see if Elaine could do a decent job. Elaine quaked inwardly when Mrs. Dahlstrom sat down by the window to watch and satisfy her curiosity.

The familiar movements of her task began to soothe Elaine's jagged nerves. Breaking the awkward silence that always seemed to engulf her and Mrs. Dahlstrom, she said, "What's the name of that old brown horse?"

Mrs. Dahlstrom twisted the thick gold band on her finger and said softly, "Rex." Her voice began to vibrate with emotion as she continued, "Poor old nag. Good for nothing except fox meat. Mr. Dahlstrom was very fond of Rex. I couldn't sell the old beast to the foxes. He's earned a rest."

Again, Elaine wanted to say something kind. But, for her, it was impossible to express sympathy to this woman, who always managed to stay reserved and aloof. Self-consciously, Elaine said, "I don't think Rex is very fond of anyone."

The other shook her head. "Rex used to be a wild one," she said, recalling other, happier days. "Years ago we didn't have tractors, you know. My husband, Torvald, was the only man in these parts who could handle Rex."

GETTING ALONG WITH PEOPLE

Getting along with people
Is sometimes hard to do,
And often you know the trouble
Is getting along with you.
When you can't get along with people
And you always criticize
It's hard to look things over
And start to analyze,
How fair have I been in my thinking?
Do I always want my way?
Do I ever stop to listen
Or always must have my say?
Do I try to be just in my judgment?
Am I really always fair?
Do I shove my part on to others
Or always do my share?
Do my words have an edge in speaking?
Am I quick to say things that offend?
Am I always hurting a loved one?
Am I often rude to a friend?
Do I try to make my home pleasant
Or do I act tired and cross?
Do I show co-operation
Or let them know I am boss?
Do I fuss, do I nag, do I grumble
Or do I try to be bright
Is it everyone else who is always wrong
And only I doing right?
This getting along with people
Is a mighty important thing
And the earlier that you learn it
The happier life it will bring.
Forgetting the things unpleasant,
Putting all hate aside
Is the very best rule for living
That anyone ever tried.
Working to make others happy,
Serving the best you can,
Getting along with people
According to God's own plan.
Getting along with people
Just isn't so easy its true
But your getting along with people
Depends on one person—You.

Oldest Living Graduate of West Point Is Native of Bunceton, Col. E. S. Walker

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — A good soldier who retired in 1906 for a service-incurred disability, only to embark on another distinguished career afterward, is Col. Edgar S. Walker.

Colonel Walker, 95 years old, who was born in Bunceton, Mo., in 1858 and later served as commandant of the Missouri Military Academy, is the oldest living graduate of West Point.

A member of the class of 1883, Colonel Walker was commissioned a second lieutenant sever years before President Eisenhower was born. He likes to tell now, in 1882, he "recognized" a new cadet and fellow Missourian, John J. Pershing, who was destined to become America's military leader in World War I. An upperclass cadet may "recognize" a plebe, or freshman, merely by shaking hands with him. This gesture of friendship means that the upper classman will not subject the plebe to any hazing during the year but will instead be a "big brother" to him and lend moral support.

Col. Walker's early career as an infantry officer took him into the frontier west where he was cited for "distinguished service in Indian warfare in maintaining the supremacy of the United States of America."

Hard Ride for Promotion

The colonel smiles when he hears today's officers and young men complaining about promotion difficulties. He remembers well his ride through warring Indian camps to take a promotion examination.

"While on duty at Ft. Totten in the Dakota territory, I received orders to report to Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., where I was to be given an examination for promotion to first lieutenant. To make the trip I had to reach a train station by first riding through a camp of Indians that had been warring in the Bad Lands section of the Dakotas. During the night I was able to get through and successfully complete the 40-mile ride to the station. The trip was certainly worth the risk because my promotion followed shortly."

Lieut. Walker was stationed at Ft. Totten when he met his future bride who was visiting in North Dakota with her mother. They were married in Gainesville, Fla., in 1886, and went to Ft. Russell, Wyo. Their first child, Elise, was born at Ft. Russell and her nurse was an Indian squaw.

Alaskan service in the 1890s offered the type of service that Walker desired. He was a pioneer at heart and responded to the trail-blazing adventures in this area before it became a territory of the United States.

Colonel Walker's only overseas duty was a short tour in the Philippines prior to his retirement in 1906. He was called back to active duty upon his own application two years later and was assigned as professor of military science and tactics at the University of Florida. This tour of duty was the beginning of 25 years' association with the university.

During World War I, he served also as recruiting officer for the state of Florida, and as an instructor at the ROTC summer camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Out of Uniform for Good

Colonel Walker retired from active duty for the second time, in 1918, and this time he hung up his uniform for good. He changed offices at the university and became a professor in engineering. Thus began another career which continued for fifteen years. The Florida state board of control named an engineering building in his honor in 1949.

The oldest living member of the "Long Gray Line" attributes his longevity to outdoor life and heredity.

"I feel that my life on a farm where I spent many hours working, hunting and fishing gave me a good start. My career as an infantry officer, with its additional outdoor living has contributed greatly to my good health."

Golf is his favorite sport and until 1940 he seldom missed a day at the Gainesville Golf and Country Club which he helped establish. He says that he will never forget his eighty-fourth birthday when he shot an 84, one stroke for each year of his life.

His father was a judge in Missouri and his mother was a Kentuckian. His two sisters attended Stephens College in Columbia. Col. Walker's last residence in his home state was in Mexico, where he served as commandant of the Missouri Military Academy for three years while he was a captain.

"Accidental President"

John Quincy Adams was nicknamed the "Accidental President" because he received 13 of 24 electoral votes cast and many felt this majority of one was an accident.

Daughters of Isabella Enjoy Social Meeting

The Daughters of Isabella, Sedalia Circle No. 310, held a social meeting Wednesday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

A white elephant sale, with Mrs. John Fischer as auctioneer, proved a lot of fun as well as netting a nice sum.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jack Pabst and her committee.

The Rev. Robert Reinhart, C.PP.S. was a special guest.

Missionaries Will Be Broadway Presbyterian Guests Tuesday Night

On Tuesday evening Broadway Presbyterian Church will have as its guests Rev. and Mrs. William B. Lyon, missionaries on furlough from Korea. The meeting is being sponsored by the Women's Association of the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Lyon have a rich background of experience to speak from, having recently returned from Korea. A coffee hour will be held following the meeting.

Changed Status

Washington, D. C., was incorporated as a city in 1802 and its municipal affairs were run by mayors and boards of aldermen regularly elected by the citizenry. Congress, in 1871, decided to turn the District of Columbia into a territory and govern it as though it were Alaska or an Indian reservation.

4-H Round-Up

By Jim Perry
Assistant County Agent

4-H Leaders Nominated For Recognition

Mrs. Paul Read and Raymond Kahrs were selected for nomination for recognition on the new 4-H Leader's Recognition Program. This new radio recognition program is tied into Rod Turnbull's broadcast over WDAF on Fridays from 12:20 to 12:30. Counties participating in the program are Bates, Cass, Henry, Jackson, Johnson, Lafayette and Pettis. The sponsor for the program is providing a certificate, a luncheon, and a gift for those selected.

Mrs. Paul Read has been a project leader in foods, clothing and home furnishings projects for 23 years and community leader for 5 or 6. She was a club member for three years in one of the first clubs in the county. She served as sponsor for the Rural Youth Organization from 1930-1935. Organizations in which she has been active are Christian Church, Farm Bureau, Community Club, Homemakers Club, Garden Club, and Community Ladies Aid. During her community leadership, five members represented their club at State Round-up and two members were selected for National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Raymond Kahrs served as community leader for three years and project leader for nine years. He has been active in Masonic Lodge, PTA, School Board and Farm Bureau Board. Some of the club members achievements during his leadership are 1953 American Royal dairy delegate, 1953 county dairy winner, 1950 Grand Champion Barrow at State Fair (jr. div.), 1951 Champion 4-H Barrow and 1953 Champion Barrow at Ozark Empire Fair. The Kahrs have three children in 4-H club work.

District Round Up — Sept. 4

The 4-H District Round-Up in which Pettis County winners will participate will be held on Sept. 4 in Clinton. This date was incorrectly reported in the April Monthly News Letter from the State Club Office. 4-H members to represent Pettis County will be selected at the County Achievement Day.

Special Camp For 4-H Leaders

The Leader's Camp on Sept. 30-Oct. 2 will offer 4-H leaders an opportunity to not only have a very enjoyable vacation, but also learn more about 4-H Club work. Any leaders who are interested in going should contact the Extension Office. At the close of last year's camp, Mrs. Stockstill, South Abell 4-H leader, remarked, "I certainly wish that every leader in the County could attend this camp. I felt that I had gained so much and had a good time while doing it.

Governor To 4-H Club Week

Gov. Donnelly will be one of the speakers at State Club Week, June 14-17, on the campus of the University of Missouri. Pettis County is allotted 15 delegates. The 4-H Council president is an automatic delegate. The other delegates will be selected by the Rural Youth Committee on the basis of special entry blanks submitted by those who are interested. These entry blanks will be mailed to club leaders soon.

4-H Camp Deposits Accepted May 1

We are happy to announce that 4-H Camp will be held this year on August 11-14, in Knob Noster State Park at Camp Bob White. We will start accepting deposits on May 1. As you know, we can take only 62 members to Camp from this County. Therefore, to be fair to everyone, camp is operated on "a first come, first served" basis. The deposit of $1.50 is required at the time a member's name is added to the list. You might tell your members that we usually have a full camp within two to three weeks after we start accepting deposits. However, it might fill up sooner.

Should members put down a deposit and then decide not to go, we can refund the deposit only if there is another member to go in his place.

The total camp cost will be $1.50 (to pay for lodging) and $4 (to pay for the campers food for three days). There will be a small handicraft fee which probably will not exceed 25 cents.

We are allowed one leader for every eight campers free. We hope that some of you will be able to attend camp and help share the responsibility of looking after our 62 members. Judging from last year's camp, it was hard to tell who had the most fun — campers or leaders.

Florida Pets Give Baby-Sitter Bad Time

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A conference of high school students was called yesterday to discuss the problems of baby-sitting.

One of the prize woes was described by a girl who told of caring for the children of a couple just returned from Florida.

She said a baby alligator snapped at her from a tub, a Mexican Calhuanua yapped at her heels and a monkey leaped at her all evening.

Civic Groups Endorse Auto Safety Drive

William McCune, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau, has announced that several organizations are cooperating with the Pettis County Farm Bureau to make their "Auto Safety Program" a success.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Club Council have endorsed the program and are encouraging automobile owners to have their automobile safety checked.

The "Auto Safety Road" equipment will be set up on May 10 and will be in operation from approximately 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. through the 14th. All persons owning an automobile or a light pickup truck are invited to take advantage of this free service.

There will be no arrests made for defective items uncovered, but you will be encouraged to have such items corrected at the garage or place of your own choosing.

Through the "Auto Safety Road" vehicles will be checked for parking lights, clear vision, windshield wiper, rear view mirror, hand brake, foot brake, tail light, stop light, headlights, wheel alignment and brakes.

Sugar Coated Pellets Show No Advantage Over Regular Feeds

Use of sugar coated pellets in creep feeding suckling pigs has shown no advantage over regular creep feeds in experiments at the University of Missouri.

A report of the feeding experiments was made by William H. Pfander, University animal husbandman, during the annual Feeders Day program at Columbia. The tests were made last spring to compare the feeding value of sugar coated pellets with two other well balanced creep rations not sugar coated. Some 225 pigs were used in the experiments.

Results obtained in this trial, said Pfander, show no advantage of sugar coated pellets over those pellets not sugar coated. Excellent results were obtained with each of the rations fed, with weaning weights of the pigs varying from 42 to 47 pounds at 56 days of age.

It's Baby Week, Time to Honor Hero of American Economy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you see any babies today, don't hesitate to smile at them, pat them on their little backs and tell them what a great job they're doing for the country.

For this is National Baby Week, a proper time to honor the new hero of the American economy.

The baby always has been a big heart throb in the home, but he hardly was regarded as a big figure in industry.

He is today. The kid in diapers is a kingpin of our national prosperity. It is everybody's business to be nice to babies, because babies are nice for practically everybody's business.

The financial giants no longer forecast the future now merely by keeping tab on the stockmarket ticker. They also check the baby statistics, and the statistics make pleasant reading.

Catering to babies is now a five-billion-dollar-a-year business. In 1953 some 3,890,000 babies arrived here, 70,000 more than the year before, and the production lines are still going full blast. No wonder that, even in as small a country as Holland, it is against the law to shoot storks.

Typical of the businessmen who have benefited from the nation's rising infantry crop is Jack Turk, who manufactures baby garments. Before the baby boom started, Turk had 12 employes and made only blankets. Now he has 300 employes in three factories that turn out 75 specialized products for babies.

"Babies come into the world bare of any inventory," said Turk contentedly. "They need a lot of things right away.

"As a matter of fact, babies are customers even before they are born. The average parents now spend $50 for a layette in advance of birth."

A survey Turk made of 10,000 infant wear outlets showed some new trends in the market, such as:

Because parents now buy more baby clothes in advance, the old tradition of "pink for the girl and blue for the boy" no longer holds true. The favorite colors now are mint, maize and white.

Some 60 per cent of all baby goods are bought as gifts. Less than 5 per cent of men shop for baby items.

Grandma has a lot to say about what is bought for the first baby but when the second baby arrives the parents are on their own.

"The trend now is to make items for babies that are safer, more comfortable and more colorful," Turk said. "We are finding that color is an important factor in satisfying the psychological and emotional needs of the infant."

This has resulted in such innovations as plastic nursing bottles that won't shatter, folding carriages that take up less space, and disposable diapers. Turk himself has pioneered with acetate fiber garments for babies allergic to wool, and a blanket with sliding rings that can be attached to crib slats to prevent babies from smothering.

A business recession?

"I can't see one in sight in our field," Turk said, "not the way people are getting married and having larger families."

Turk and other men in the field are highly annoyed, however, over what happens when babies get a little older and start picking out their own clothing. They all seem to want to go around in dungarees and polo shirts.

"We are launching a big campaign to get them to dress up more," he said, and added severely, "Why, it is getting hard to tell little girls and boys apart. This dungaree habit has become a terrible threat to the proper development of their personalities."

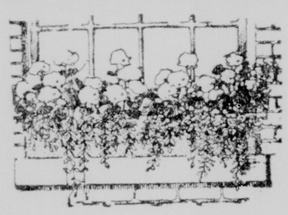

What it is doing to the personalities of children's wear manufacturers is even worse. Ulcers—in technicolor.

Long-time Sign Proves It Has a Loophole

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—For years proprietor Hank Hage of the Granite Bells Cafe felt snug about this sign on his wall:

"Credit extended to those over 80 years and accompanied by their parents."

Then H. P. Stratton, 82, of Seattle walked in with his father, W. H. Stratton, 107. Hage paid for their meal.
